

Plan 780 Houses In North Vancouver

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP)—Members of the Co-workers' Co-operative Society of North Vancouver are discussing a $1,250,000 project to purchase 780 wartime homes, R. H. Thompson, president of the society, said today.

"We can raise about $250,000 cash now and plan to buy on a 20 per cent cash basis with ample time to pay the balance," he said.

Polio Hits Alberta

CALGARY (CP)—Two cases of poliomyelitis, both men, have been brought to the city for treatment, it was stated today. One patient, aged 28, is an airman from Penhold. The other, aged 38, was moved from Longview to the isolation hospital.

4 Die in Crash

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (AP)—Four persons, three soldiers and one woman, were killed and four were injured in a head-on collision between two automobiles 12 miles west of here today.

Bricklayers Out

EDMONTON (CP)—Strike of 41 union bricklayers was in its second week this afternoon and although meetings were held by the men during the week-end and this morning, there was no indication of any immediate settlement in the dispute.

Story of Sinking Of Perth, Houston Told By Survivor

TOKYO (AP)—The story of how at least 1,100 lives were lost as the Australian cruiser Perth and the U.S. cruiser Houston were sunk in the Java Sea in February, 1942, has been told by one of the 600 survivors.

The disappearance of the two Allied vessels had been one of the sea disasters of the war about which few details were known.

A medical officer aboard the Perth, whose identity cannot be disclosed pending notification of next-of-kin, told newspapermen Saturday how eight of more than 100 enemy torpedoes found their mark Feb. 28 as the Houston and Perth sped for the Sunda Strait between Sumatra and Java after a running battle with an overwhelmingly superior Japanese force.

Both vessels had taken part in the first Java Sea battle in which two Dutch cruisers were sunk and had proceeded to Batavia for refueling and resupplying. The seas were thick with Japanese invasion forces bound for Java.

Some of the Allied seamen succeeded in swimming ashore, but were turned over to the Japanese by natives who were paid bounty for each prisoner.

No Fairfield Buses For Several Weeks

B.C. Electric buses are not likely to roll along the new Fairfield-Gonzales feeder route for several weeks.

The B.C. executive council at its regular meeting Tuesday will probably consider the Blue Line Transit and Taxi Company's appeal from the Public Utilities Commission decision in granting the route to the B.C. Electric. Formal notice of appeal to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council was filed this afternoon with the Provincial Secretary's department.

Since the notice of appeal contains in its 24-point contention several items of a legal nature, it appears possible that the cabinet may refer the appeal to the B.C. Appeal Court before approving the Public Utilities Commission's decision.

Should the appeal be heard by the appeal court it is unlikely a decision would be made before several weeks.

Election Registration Centres To Operate 12 Hours Per Day

Registration centres for putting names on the provincial election voters' list today will start working on a 12-hour shift in Victoria and Vancouver, Deputy Provincial Secretary P. Walker said today.

Mr. Walker said the election deputies would double up and make their own arrangements for keeping the offices open so that electors may register. The offices will be open from 9 in the morning to 9 at night.

Puppet Convicted Sentenced to Death; Broadcast From Court

V. QUISLING

LONDON (CP)—The Oslo radio announced today that Vidkun Quisling had been convicted on charges of high treason and sentenced to death.

The pronouncing of the sentence by the court that tried Quisling for co-operation with the Germans during the occupation of Norway was broadcast direct from the courtroom.

Under the new law making the death penalty legal in Norway, the sentence will be executed by a military firing squad composed of 10 soldiers.

Under the law Quisling can appeal to the supreme court, which can commute the sentence but cannot reverse it.

The presiding judge at Quisling's trial, however, was Erik Solheim, who also is a supreme court justice and thus one of the group which would pass on any appeal.

Quadruplets Born

DUNNVILLE, Ont. (CP)—Quadruplets—two boys and two girls—were born in the hospital here today to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh E. Smith of nearby Calist, with mother and children reported "doing fine." Each baby weighs more than three pounds.

Fish Packer Sinks

VANCOUVER (CP)—The 35-foot fish packer Martha II sank Sunday in 750 feet of water in Granville Channel, near Prince Rupert, following a collision with the U.S. seiner J. O. Edwards, said word received here today.

It is believed the vessel's crew of three or four men was rescued. Gales have been blowing along the coast for the last few days.

Cabinet Agrees To See Labor Group Tuesday

OTTAWA (CP)—A spokesman for a delegation of some 250 union members said late today the federal cabinet had promised to meet their steering committee tomorrow to discuss the problems that brought them to Ottawa from points in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes.

Seeking a speedy and stable reconversion of wartime industry and "jobs for all" the delegation won its major objective when Reconstruction Minister Howe informed their leaders the cabinet would grant them an interview tomorrow. Hour of the meeting has not been settled.

The report of the meeting with the cabinet came in the wake of a meeting attended by delegates and Members of Parliament. There, one of the two chairmen, Robert Laddow of Montreal, said the delegation had achieved "to a great extent" its purpose in coming to Ottawa.

Arthur Smith, member for Calgary West and Progressive Conservative labor committee chairman, promised the "best and sympathetic co-operation" and said, "I assure you we shall do our best."

John Blackmore, Social Credit member for Lethbridge, said, "Everything you ask for you are entitled to and this country is capable of providing," but added: "It is a money problem."

When today's sitting of the House of Commons opened at 3 p.m., C.C.F. Leader Coldwell drew attention to the fact that the delegates had been barred for a time by parliamentary policemen from entering the Parliament Buildings this morning to speak with Members of Parliament. Among others barred for a time was Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan.

Mr. Coldwell asked the Speaker of the House to investigate the authority upon which the police action was taken.

Room in the Parliament Buildings for the delegates was sanctioned after support from Opposition Leader Bracken.

Dr. Arthur Beauchamp, Clerk of the House, agreed to allow the delegation of roughly 250—claiming to represent some 200,000 members of both the C.I.O. and the A.F.L. in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes—to meet in the railway committee room if one of the party leaders would sanction the meeting.

Earlier, members had assumed responsibility for delegates they took through the doors of Parliament in groups of two or three because Parliamentary police had been telling the delegates the House was closed to visitors.

How Allies Are Occupying Former Jap-Held Areas

This map shows how areas formerly held by Japan are, have been or are being occupied. Russia will withdraw her troops from Manchuria three months after surrender. Chinese "occupation" is really repossession of the area of China held by Japs at war's end.

Meat Rationing Returns; Standard About Same As That In U.S.

OTTAWA (CP)—Meat rationing returned to Canada today and in butcher shops across the nation ration coupons and tokens became necessary to purchase the allowance of approximately 1½ pounds of actual meat Canadians can get each week under the plan.

The Prices Board made the announcement Sunday and disclosed at the same time that quotas on the slaughtering of cattle have been lifted temporarily and that the "freeze" order on all sales of canned meats has been rescinded. Canned meats will be included in the ration.

Effective today the brown M coupons in ration book five became good for the purchase of meat, and each has a value of from one to three pounds of meat per person per week, depending on the type of meat purchased. The new ration plan is basically the same as during the previous rationing period, with these changes:

1. Meat tokens are being introduced on the basis of eight tokens for one coupon. This permits the purchaser to split his coupon and buy less meat at one time than the entire coupon value.

2. Fancy and canned meats are included in the new ration.

3. Changes have been made in the coupon values of different cuts.

MEAT GRADED

Meats and cuts have been divided into groups for rationing purposes with values as follows:

Group A (one pound a coupon): Includes cured back pork sliced; back or side bacon, sliced, and cooked pork and ham.

Group B (1½ pounds a coupon): Includes round beefsteak, sirloin tip, veal cutlets, mutton frontquarters, whole fresh ham, smoked pork centre slices.

Group C (2 pounds a coupon): Includes beef hindquarter shank, sirloin steak, neck, veal loin, side pork, fresh; dry salt lean backs, cured; jellied meats, liver, kidney, sweetbread.

Group D (2½ pounds a coupon): Includes beef short ribs, fresh veal flank, pork sausage, mutton leg cut, fresh loin pork, smoked pork jowl.

Group E (3 pounds a coupon): Includes fresh pork jowl, cured pork hock, heart.

Each coupon is worth eight tokens—blue, fabricated discs slightly larger than nickels.

Because of the difference in rationing systems, comparison between the Canadian ration and the United States ration is difficult, but Donald Gordon, Prices Board chairman, said the per capita ration would be just about the same.

"I saw their eyes and their backs," Mr. Kelly said. "I think they were coyotes... and if they were they certainly were big ones."

Gen. de Gaulle Asks Britain, France Co-operate Closely

LONDON (Reuter)—Need for close Anglo-French co-operation was stressed today in an interview with Gen. de Gaulle published by the Times of London, in which the head of the French provisional government also discussed existing divergent views of the two countries.

The substance of Gen. de Gaulle's views, the Times correspondent said, was: Justification of an understanding between Britain and France lies in the fact that the two have certain characteristics in common that make it expedient, even necessary, for both to concert their action on a variety of problems and to this end lay down in advance a common basis of policy.

Gen. de Gaulle named these three characteristics:

1. Britain and France are both powers of western Europe; they are both (for want of a better word) imperial; and they are both democratic in the sense that their civilization and institutions are based on the respect due to the human personality.

2 Coyotes Seen In West Vancouver

WEST VANCOUVER (CP)—Not only cougars but coyotes as well now appear to be harassing residents of this coastal town situated across the harbor from Vancouver along the slopes of the wooded coast mountain range.

John Kelly reported seeing two large coyotes try to cross the road 500 feet east of the Lions' Gate bridge which connects this community with Vancouver.

"I saw their eyes and their backs," Mr. Kelly said. "I think they were coyotes... and if they were they certainly were big ones."

Mr. Kelly lost nine chickens to coyotes last October.

Meat Rationing May End In U.S. Oct. 1

WASHINGTON (AP)—The end of all meat rationing in the United States by Oct. 1 was seen as a possibility by some ration officials here today, although no date has been set.

Office of Price Administration said the decision would be made by agreement with the Agriculture Department.

Scraps Imperial General Staff; Censors Press

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. MacArthur struck Japanese militarism a death blow today by ordering the Imperial General Headquarters abolished and simultaneously clamped a press and radio censorship on the beaten empire.

As Allied Supreme Commander he issued a directive that the headquarters must dissolve by Sept. 13. General Headquarters was set up in 1940 a few months before the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor to co-ordinate army and navy activity.

The censorship for Japanese press and radio pledged there would be a minimum of restrictions on freedom of speech. It was contained in a directive issued to the Japanese government. As a result overseas broadcasts from Tokyo radio stations were reported by U.S. public relations officers to be off the air.

While the occupation of Japan moved smoothly today, sparks flew in Korea over Gen. MacArthur's policy of retaining Japanese officials in office. Koreans demonstrated in Seoul (Kello) and termed it "a slap in the face" when Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, whose 24th Army Corps landed at Jinsen Saturday, proclaimed that Japanese administrative officials would continue in office. They had expected quick freedom from the Japanese.

Gen. Hodge, after accepting surrender of southern Korea (the Russians control the northern half), quickly explained that the Japanese governor-general and his staff would remain in office only to carry out U.S. orders and would be allowed no independent action.

Vice-Admiral Fletcher and his northern Pacific naval forces accepted Japan's surrender of all northern Honshu and the northernmost home island of Hokkaido at the Ominato naval base Sunday.

Gen. MacArthur simultaneously issued two statements from his new headquarters in Tokyo. One pledged that Japanese militarism would be eliminated. The other assured his troops they would go home as soon as peace could be made secure.

Bracken Opens Opposition Guns In Maiden Speech In Commons

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition Leader John Bracken this afternoon moved an amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne criticizing the government for lack of planning in demobilization, reconversion and housing.

Mr. Bracken's first full-length speech in his new role as leader of the Progressive Conservative opposition in the Commons was punctuated with criticism of the government and promises to support constructive measures for the creation of enduring peacetime prosperity in Canada.

"Under our system of government it is for the administration in power to bring forward its policies," he said. "It remains for us as members to support what is wise and to criticize what is imprudent in the proposals advanced."

ACCEPTS RESPONSIBILITY
 "As leader of the opposition, I accept on behalf of the party I lead the responsibilities that fall to our lot. The government may, therefore, count upon us for both constructive co-operation and constructive criticism. It is in that spirit that this party approaches the tasks of the challenging days ahead."

Mr. Bracken, who heads a larger group of members of his party than any Progressive Conservative leader for the last 10 years, was roundly applauded by veteran and newly-elected members of his group as he ticked off points in a speech which was shorter than usually made by party leaders in the Throne Speech debate.

His voice carried well in the chamber and almost a full attendance of members listened to him.

WANTS NO SECRECY
 Specifically, he had these things to say:

1. There must be a discontinuance of "dictatorial methods," of "secrecy" in matters of public concern, of "government by order-in-council rather than by Parliament."

2. The government's housing program was a "flop."

3. Economic controls necessitated by shortages must be removed as shortages disappear.

4. If meat rationing was necessary the government was to blame for it because it allowed hog production to decline.

5. There would be "widespread resentment and bitterness" if the budget did not bring "substantial relief from the burden of war-time taxation."

6. "We will support all reasonable measures to increase the general volume of international trade and Canada's share of it."

7. The Opposition would support the United Nations' charter and the Bretton Woods monetary agreements.

REAL PEACE SENTIMENT
 While the Opposition Leader commended the United Nations' charter, he warned that world peace could not be gained by signatures on a page. A will to peace on the part of the "mass minds of every generation" was necessary.

On external trade, he was critical of the Throne Speech for not setting out concrete measures instead of generalities. He asked what proposals were in mind for restoring normal trade with Britain, increasing trade with the United States, South America and other countries, and for participating in the development of undeveloped areas.

One of the strongest advocates of a revision of Dominion-Provincial financial relations during his 20-year term as Premier of Manitoba, Mr. Bracken was critical of the government for delay in getting negotiations going with the provinces, but hopeful of their success.

He criticized the proposal that the provinces share 50-50 in the cost of pensions for the needy from 65 to 69 years of age, but approved the proposal for the Dominion to pay pensions to all from the age of 70 upwards.

ALL CANADIANS
 "What must not be lost sight of in the discussion of Dominion-provincial relations is that every person affected is a Canadian. No matter in what province he may reside," said Mr. Bracken.

"What we must find as a way to see that no Canadian is denied a decent level of social services because of his geographic location or that he has to pay a confiscatory rate of taxation to secure it because geography finds him in a certain place."

The government had been guilty of "some extravagances unparalleled since Confederation" in spending money during the war, he said, "warning that the Opposition would demand reductions in taxation and prudence in spending."

Allies to Enter Sasebo Naval Base
 TOKYO (AP)—The Nippon Times said today that Allied occupation troops would enter the Sasebo naval base, Kyushu, Sept. 22 and Nagasaki Sept. 26.

It also said two colonels in Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger's 6th Army have gone to Kyoto to prepare for occupation forces.

Other occupation dates listed were Wakayama Sept. 25, Yokohama Oct. 2, Aomori Oct. 3, Hokkaido Oct. 4, and Kure Oct. 13.

Regina Sergeant Tortured While Lived Like Tarzan Being Questioned By Japanese

By WILLIAM STEWART

Routledge of Regina, who was among the Canadians taken prisoner at Hongkong on Christmas Day, 1941, was submitted to torture by Japanese gendarmes before he was sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment by a court-martial. He had served two years of his sentence before he was liberated.

Although Sgt. Routledge, a signaller, was wounded by bomb shrapnel in the battle of Hongkong, he is physically intact and looks fine. He now is in a U.S. military hospital here. He credits his condition to the fact that his long prison term was spent in Stanley Prison at Hongkong and in the Canton jail.

He was transferred from the jail at Canton to the Samshuipo camp about two weeks ago. He said he had received only two Red Cross parcels while in Japanese hands. No mail had reached him since December, 1941.

The 25-year-old sergeant was arrested on Dominion Day, 1943, some months after he had been released from hospital, where he had been treated for dysentery and malaria. He had spent time in the hospital previously while leg and arm shrapnel wounds were healing.

At the present it is not possible to explain the circumstances under which Sgt. Routledge was summoned from a Dominion Day sports meet at Samshuipo and was turned over to the infamous gendarmes and their G-stapo-like methods, but the full story will be told as soon as possible.

REFUSED TO ANSWER
The Regina sergeant was taken to the gendarmes, who had earned the hate and contempt of every prisoner, and was handcuffed, tied and subjected to the water torture because he refused to answer their questions.

This Japanese method of extracting information consisted of putting the bound victim on his back, placing a towel across his face and pouring water on it from a bucket.

Sgt. Routledge said the Japanese kept putting water on the towel and he was swallowing it against his will until he was on the verge of fainting. Then they'd revive him, ask him if he wanted to change his mind about talking, and repeat the performance.

Four or five Chinese collaborators helped the gendarmes in the third-degree questioning and water treatment, which lasted about one and one-half hours.

When Sgt. Routledge still refused to talk, a board was placed on his stomach and one of the gendarmes jumped up and down on it until Routledge said he felt "everything was going to pop." Between periods of questioning, the gendarmes kept this up until Routledge was on the point of collapse.

Finally the Canadian soldier gave the Japanese information they already knew and in the company of two British prisoners, who also had been tortured and beaten, he was taken to Hongkong by ferry and locked up in Stanley Prison near the civilian internment camp. He was imprisoned with Chinese convicts at first and with Japanese prisoners later.

TORTURE REPEATED
While in a prison cell that adjoined one of his British companions and faced that of the other, Sgt. Routledge communicated with the two Britons by tapping out Morse signals on the cell walls and signalling Morse by flapping the hatch of the little opening through which food was passed.

Later the three prisoners were taken from their cells and one at a time "put through the mill again," he said. The questions were the same as before, and the Canadian sergeant said he either denied any knowledge of what the Japanese were striving at or "gave silly answers."

Two days later the performance was repeated for the third time.

During that period, food was placed in the prisoners' cells, but not only was it not appetizing, but the prisoners could not eat.

Dec. 1, 1943, the trio were taken to the Japanese Supreme Court at Hongkong where, with three other British officers, they were told they would undergo a court-martial.

They were led into the court at 1 p.m. and the procedure was translated for them by an interpreter. They were accused of betraying the Japanese and the death penalty was demanded by the prosecutor.

After the court had adjourned because of an air raid, the prisoners were taken back to the courtroom and following a lengthy speech by the court president, four officers were sentenced to death while Routledge and a British non-commissioned officer were given 15-year sentences.

FREED BY SAILORS

They were returned to Stanley prison and made to dress in convicts clothing and worked in the gardens. Sgt. Routledge was in that prison until June 23 this year, when he was taken to Canton and placed in the same prison as Cmdr. Douglas Craven, British navy officer, who had been imprisoned for possessing a radio set.

In mid-August, U.S. aircraft flying over Canton dropped instructions to the Japanese to release prisoners and Routledge was taken to the hospital at Kowloon, a couple of miles from the Samshuipo camp. He was released the day seamen from the Canadian anti-aircraft cruiser Prince Robert landed at Kowloon.

Routledge, whose weight at one time during his term at Stanley jail was down to 100 pounds, now looks as if he weighs about 140 or 150 pounds. He regained weight during the last few months when a British major, who was a liaison officer between British prisoners and the Japanese, agitated successfully to have all prisoners at Stanley jail put on the same rations as Japanese soldiers.

Sgt. Routledge, who is extremely quiet, and will not permit the full use of his story without the permission of a particular superior officer, scratched his close-dropped head when asked why he was in hospital when to all appearances he looked well.

"Frankly, I don't know what I'm here for," he said. "They say it's malnutrition, but I feel fine. I'd like to get out of here and join the rest of the boys when they arrive at the replacement depot."

Sgt. Routledge said he was looking forward to word from his wife, who when her last letter reached him was in Forest, Man.

3 Appeals Against Death Sentence On List for Hearing

Three murder appeals head the list of 28 cases, 23 of them criminal, to be heard by the Court of Appeal when the autumn sittings begin Tuesday in the Courthouse.

Less than a week from the date on which they were sentenced to hang, Daniel Harrison and Alex Prince are making appeals in an effort to save their lives. Harrison was convicted in Vancouver June 8 of the murder of Clifford Lennox May 7 and sentenced by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane to hang Sept. 18. Chief Justice Wendell B. Farris sentenced Alex Prince to hang on the same date after he was convicted June 5 at Prince George for the murder of Eugene Mesmer between Oct. 10, 1944, and March 13, 1945. Counsel for the Crown will be Attorney-General R. L. Maitland, K.C.

First case to be heard will be William Hainen, granted a one month reprieve by Mr. Justice A. M. Harper Thursday, who is appealing the sentence of Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane that he hang for the murder of Olga Jawryluk, 23, restaurant cashier at English Bay May 2. He is due to hang Oct. 20.

Civil cases on the list include the appeal of the Law Society of British Columbia from the order of Mr. Justice Harper May 12 of the examination of Robert F. Gallagher as a notary public and his enrolment if he was found qualified in the examination. Chief grounds of the appeal to be argued by A. de B. McPhillips, are that the judge erred in not making a finding whether they need a notary where Gallagher desired to practice, and in holding that he was entitled to make an order upon the ground that the commission of John Savage as notary was to be surrendered for cancellation.

A total of 15 cases are being argued by the appellants in person, including four of the seven appeals from sentence. Only civil case of that kind is May et al vs. Hartin in which Mrs. Minnie M. May will argue her own case. The matter in dispute has been before the courts for years and involves a mine.

Three judgments reserved from the May sitting in Vancouver are: Shaw vs. Shaw, heard before the full court; Moore vs. DeWolf, a judgment of the Chief Justice and Messrs. Justice O'Halloran and Bird; and Van Snellenberg vs. Cemco Electrical Mfg. Co., decided by Messrs. Justice O'Halloran, Robertson and Sidney Smith.

Woman Slain; Husband Held In Winnipeg
WINNIPEG (CP)—Thirty-year-old Eileen May McCallum, attractive mother of three young sons, was strangled to death at her suburban Weston home Saturday night. Her husband, Cpl. Fred McCallum, 37, an air force service policeman, was scheduled to be arraigned in police court today on an unknown charge.

A coroner's inquest on the death was expected to be called today by Dr. I. O. Fryer, coroner. McCallum was turned over to civil police Saturday night after he had gone to air force service police and told them he believed he had "finished" his wife.

McCallum, stationed at No. 12,

Australians Say Hungry Japanese Ate Human Flesh

LONDON (CP)—The Australian government declared Sunday in an official report on Japanese atrocities that Japanese soldiers tied the hands of captured Australian and U.S. soldiers behind them, used the helpless victims for bayonet practice and then while they were still alive sliced off human flesh for food.

The document, made public here and in Australia, was prepared for submission to the United Nations War Crimes Commission.

It is clear from authentic evidence that many underfed Japanese troops had "resorted to cannibalism," the government asserted.

In some cases, the report said, human flesh was found in Japanese mess kits or over camp fires. The Australian report said that some captured Japanese soldiers had admitted they also had cut up and devoured members of their own army killed in action.

MORE CHARGES

The report summarizes only a portion of Australian charges, said Dr. H. V. Evatt, Australian Minister for External Affairs, who is in London to attend the Foreign Ministers' meeting.

Dr. Evatt said the contents of the document are such as to "shock and dismay the feelings of every decent human being."

The report was based on the testimony of more than 500 witnesses, both civilian and military, as well as documentary evidence. The Australian minister declared the war crimes committed by the Japanese forces in the field are "part of a system of terrorism in which all Japanese troops and commanders participated."

"It is our duty," he added "to see that those who organized the system are punished and that the system itself is completely eradicated. Those at the top are, in our view at least, equally guilty with the actual perpetrators on the spot."

Blamey Tells Japs Where They Stand

MELBOURNE (CP)—Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, Australian commander-in-chief, bluntly told surrendering Japanese on the Island of Morotai Sunday "I don't recognize you as an honorable and gallant foe."

In the presence of Dutch, U.S. and Australian forces on the small Netherlands East Indies island, 315 miles southeast of Mindanao, Gen. Blamey accepted the surrender of thousands of enemy troops in the eastern East Indies with these words:

"In receiving your surrender I don't recognize you as an honorable, gallant foe, but you'll be treated with due courtesy in all matters."

"I recall the treacherous attack upon our ally in 1937. I recall the treacherous attack upon the British Empire and upon the United States in December, 1941, at a time when your authorities were making a pretence of an enduring peace between us."

"I recall the atrocities inflicted upon persons of our nationals as prisoners of war and internees, designed to reduce them by punishment and starvation to slavery. In the light of these evils I will enforce most rigorously all orders issued to you, so let there be no delay in fulfillment, at your peril."

Li-Gen. Tishima, commander of the Japanese 2nd Army, was the direct recipient of Gen. Blamey's remarks.

Japanese troops were reported laying down their arms in all sectors from Bougainville in the Solomons to Wewak in northeast New Guinea, following the surrender of an estimated 140,000 enemy troops.

Returning Soldier Killed As Ship Docks

HALIFAX (CP)—Pte. Rosaire Drouin of Mal Bay, Que., returning war veteran, was killed almost instantly Sunday when he was crushed by an automatic water-tight door deep in the hold of the liner Nieuw Amsterdam, which arrived here Sunday afternoon with nearly 8,000 Canadian veterans.

Drouin, who is survived by his wife and two children, apparently tried to pass through the doorway without locking the automatic hydraulic mechanism. A handle must be held until the door is completely open, but Drouin evidently released the lever too soon and was crushed as the door swung shut.

Redistribution of Federal Seats To Be Postponed To Next Session

OTTAWA (CP)—The government will postpone at least until next session, any redistribution of the federal electoral districts, the boundaries of which have not been altered since 1933.

Under the British North America Act, redistribution should have followed the 1941 census, but was postponed because of the war. The result has been that the last three general elections have been fought on the same distribution of constituencies based on the 1931 census. A number of members of Parliament interviewed at the weekend were agreed that there were too many urgent matters to look after during the present session and redistribution might well wait.

QUEBEC YARDSTICK

The basis of redistribution is that Quebec gets 65 members in the House of Commons and the other provinces get representation in proportion to their population in relation to Quebec. Under every five years. One will be taken next year. It has been suggested redistribution be delayed until these new population figures are available.

When the government decides to go ahead with the task of redistribution, a committee of the House will be named, representative of all parties in proportion to the number of members it has in the Commons. That committee will fight out how the boundaries of the constituencies will be rearranged.

LIVELY TIMES

In the past, redistribution committee meetings have been often described as "dog fights." They were held behind closed doors with each party seeking political advantage. Ever since Confederation the two old parties have locked in battle every 10 years, trying to work out constituencies that would help their candidates.

A number of present House of Commons members would like to see the job handed over to a commission and taken out of politics altogether.

SEVEN IN TEN

APPROVE MEAT RATIONING

By CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

TORONTO—John Public's reaction to renewed meat rationing is just one more example of the amazing extent to which he will go if he knows, and believes in, the reason for restrictions and shortages.

In the past four years, the Canadian Institute has published repeatedly examples of the readiness with which the mass of Canadians accepted record-breaking taxes, restrictions, regulations and other inconveniences under the compelling impetus of war.

Today, with the fighting over, that impetus has lost its punch—and yet the institute finds that nearly seven in every 10 adult Canadians approve the fact that their meat is to be rationed again—on a stricter basis than before.

Perhaps the reason for this solid support lies in the fact that a majority of Canadians believe rightly or wrongly, that the reason for meat rationing is to supply the needs of war-starved European countries.

In making this survey, institute opinion reporters from coast to coast started out by asking the simple question:

"Why do you think Canada has rationed meat again?"

Sixty-seven per cent of the answers were to this effect: "To feed Europe"; "to supply Unrra," and so on. Another 6 per cent believed that meat rationing was renewed to satisfy complaints from rationed United States. Only 9 per cent had no answer at all.

Then came the question: "Do you approve or disapprove of this?"

Approve, 68 per cent; disapprove, 23 per cent; undecided, 9 per cent.

Strongest approval was found on the prairies and in the Maritimes (74 per cent and 72 per cent respectively). Even in the area which gave the lowest approval (Quebec), the approval figure was the substantial majority of 63 per cent. Women approve (72 per cent) to a greater degree than men (64 per cent).

An interesting fact brought out by the survey is that of those who approve meat rationing, 81 per cent believe it is necessary to feed European countries, whereas of those who disapprove, only 42 per cent gave this reason.

Jap Code Cracked; Shooting Down Of Yamamoto Resulted

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States intelligence officers broke a Japanese code and death resulted for Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto, commander-in-chief of the Japanese navy who once boasted he would dictate peace in the White House.

Yamamoto died in a flaming bomber over the Solomons in April, 1943, shot down by U.S. airmen who knew in advance the course his aerial convoy was to follow.

The enemy told of his death. What had not been disclosed was the clever action of the U.S. intelligence section in reading details of the orders that betrayed the itinerary of the enemy leader.

The enemy code was cracked in March or April, 1943. The U.S. forces knew the time Yamamoto would leave Truk what time he would arrive at Buaka, and leave Buaka for Kahili or Ballale. Six lightnings and some decoys were taken to the rendezvous.

Yamamoto arrived escorted by 20 Zeros. Six Americans volunteered to go down through the Zero escort and blast Yamamoto to oblivion. This was done.

Two U.S. fliers peeled off at 24,000 feet and in a vertical dive went through their own decoy direct to two bombers not knowing which one held Yamamoto.

One plane almost dashed into a collision with the first bomber, gave it a long burst and pulled up just as the bomber exploded.

Then began one of the strangest hedge-hopping flights in history. The bomber-wreckers, flying almost on the water at about 10 feet, slipped, skidded, zoomed and did other acrobatics.

Neither was shot down, and before they had got clear they had downed a couple of Zeros.

Bader Flies Again

LONDON (CP)—Group Capt. Douglas Bader, famed R.A.F. legless fighter pilot, and 13 other survivors of "The Few" credited with saving Britain in 1940 air battles, will fly together next Saturday on the fifth anniversary of their epic struggle against the Nazi air force.

Group Capt. Bader, who once commanded the "All-Canadian" squadron of the R.A.F. and later was taken prisoner, will lead a squadron of 14 planes at the fore of a column of several hundred bombers and fighters over London.

2 L.P. Candidates

VANCOUVER (CP)—Harold Pritchett and Charles Stewart were named at a convention here Sunday night as Labor Progressive Party candidates for Vancouver East riding in the Oct. 25 provincial general election.

Manitoba to Vote Oct. 15, 10 Days Before B.C. People

WINNIPEG (CP)—Speech-making and meeting planning topped the agenda of campaign managers for major political parties today—five weeks before the Manitoba general election—as they made final preparations for a heavy verbal battle, expected to get under way by mid-week.

Political observers say the fight for power in the 55-member Legislature, plus three senators' representatives, will be mainly a two-way battle with the Liberal-Progressive and Conservative parties lined up against the C.C.F.

Premier Stuart Garson announced Saturday night his coalition Administration would seek the electorate's opinion Oct. 15. An order-in-council dissolving the 21st Legislature was signed by Lieutenant-Governor R. F. McWilliams following prorogation of a five-day special sitting to deal with postwar rehabilitation and reconstruction plans.

COUNT VARIES

Provision for election of three servicemen members is made in an act passed at the special session. Ten members will be elected for Winnipeg by the proportional representation system of voting, while the single transferable ballot will be used in other parts of the province.

Results of the special session are expected to be one of the main issues on which the campaign will be fought.

The government's 10-year schemes for educational, rural electrification, agriculture, development of natural resources, health, construction, labor and highway building all came under heavy criticism by opposition members.

They said the government had put before the House a mass of projects, worthy enough in themselves, but without any guarantee that those most urgently needed to fill the present war-to-peace transition gap would be started.

STANDING AT DISSOLUTION

At dissolution, the Liberal-Progressive and Conservative coalition government had 43 followers, including three Social Credit and four Independent members. The nine-man anti-coalition bloc consisted of three C.C.F. and Labor Progressive and Independent members. There were three vacancies.

Liberal-Progressive and Conservative whips say their candidates will not oppose each other in any of the province's 46 constituencies, while the Socialist Party already has announced it will have at least 45 candidates by nomination day, Oct. 5.

$20 TO $1,000 LOANS AT REDUCED COST

No endorsers or bankable security needed
Quick Service

WHY pay more than you have to for a loan? From Household Finance you can now borrow at the monthly rate of only 1 1/2% on your unpaid balance. At this rate a $100 loan for one month costs only $1.50, a $300 loan only $4.50!

ONLY ONE CHARGE. You may apply for any amount—from $20 to $1,000—and repay on the schedule most convenient for you. Notice that you may take up to 12 to 20 months to repay. All payments shown in the table include principal and charges. Our rate of charge includes all costs. There are no discounts, no fines or extras of any kind. And charges are made only for the actual time you have the money. That is why a $50 loan, repaid in 3 months—payments, for example, costs only $1.51!

Or just look at the reasonable costs of larger loans. A $300 loan, for example, repaid in 6 monthly installments, costs $15.95; a $500 3-payment loan $15.07; a $1,000 6-payment loan only $33.15.

SIMPLE TO GET. To apply for the amount you need merely tell us about your problem and the payment schedule you prefer. You need no endorsers or bankable security. If you can make regular monthly payments, you meet the main requirement for borrowing from Household Finance. You can usually get the cash the same day you apply.

If you need money—up to $1,000—for almost any purpose, why not borrow at Household's reduced rate? Phone, write or visit Household Finance today!

RECONVERSION AND ATTITUDES

NOT SO VERY LONG AGO WE USED to refer to the postwar period as a vague condition with which at some distant date Canadians would be confronted. It has arrived; it has been with us for some little time. The consequences of the aftermath of the costliest and most brutal human conflict in history are facing this and other nations. For our own self-respect there is no need to emphasize again and again the terrific sufferings and endurance of those who, through no fault of their own, passed through the awful lawlessness of Adolf Hitler's "new order." But there is not only the need but the duty for us to realize that it is impossible entirely to escape the consequences of the war and to imagine that victory has been won without cost or inconvenience to ourselves.

Having won the war against both Germany and Japan, however, the task now ahead of us is the national readjustment to peace—or what, to sum it up in one word, is known as reconversion. We are no longer being called upon to find enormous sums for the purpose of destruction; and thousands of lives are being spared because the fighting is over. Our principal assets remain to us for our use. But the liability imposed is the closing down of plants directly connected with the demand for destruction and the finding of jobs for those who were employed in these wartime establishments. We are assured by the federal authorities that much work awaits to be done by temporarily idle persons, provided they will accept less remuneration, and go where the jobs are available. It is equally obvious that there are a large number of people who do not relish the inconvenience of moving from those localities in which they have worked for two or more years.

Consequently, demands are being made on the government to continue the operation of plants; in other words, to pay for work which is not required by subsidizing those who do not choose to accept work which is necessary. This means that all those who are willing to work and produce the goods that are wanted have to "carry" those who are not willing to work except at jobs which produce nothing but a liability at a very high cost. It is easy enough, of course, to pretend that this or that corporation could build ships or airplanes here and there at costs which prevent them becoming an asset because they are useless. But would those who claim that this is possible invest their own savings in such operations? They will not recognize, nor are they willing that others should recognize, that their labor is their capital and that their investment in production for which there is no market would be thrown away.

In trying thus to escape this aspect of the problem of reconversion readjustment we would be guilty of asking the government to find jobs for everybody at rates, which the production from those jobs could not pay. And under such a system as that the government would have to choose the job and pay the proportion of the total income produced from the market to the individual according to the proportion he or she contributed to the job. In the light of such circumstances, there could be no choice of jobs; nor would there be any bargaining for the rates of pay. This alternative, however, does not seem to have been considered by those who lightly argue that there is little difference in production under the impelling urgency of war and under the more orderly conditions of peace. Which suggests that it is no use accusing the government of "criminal negligence" so long as we are "criminally ignorant" of the real problem involved.

NOT JUST FINANCES

A CANADIAN PUBLICATION WITH AN unusual technique in presenting concise argument, suggests a $100 deductible clause for the application of health insurance benefits. It hopes that Canadian health insurance will not put a premium on getting sick, and says that people who are self-employed are away from their jobs less while sick. Its idea of a health insurance scheme would require citizens to meet the initial costs of medical treatment or hospitalization up to the sum of $100. That, it suggests, would avert the cluttering up of hospitals with those suffering from trivial ailments. The publication may have a point there.

But if what we have been told about preventive medicine is true, it would also discourage a person from gaining medical attention in the incipient stages of an ailment when a cure can be rendered more effective and less costly than when the disease has taken firm hold. It is our contention that early attack on illness involves more than the financial element. In law, there is an accepted practice that it is better for a guilty man to go free than for an innocent one to be hanged. So in health, it would be preferable to see a system abused in some small measure than to let those in need of help go without.

GET ON VOTERS' LIST

ONE IMPORTANT POINT SHOULD BE understood and borne in mind by every qualified voter in British Columbia. It is this: Only those persons in this province who voted in the provincial general election on Oct. 21, 1941, are automatically entitled to vote on Oct. 23, 1945. Those who did not vote four years ago must see that their names are on the lists before or on September 17—one week from today. If they do not get their names registered then, they will not be able to cast a ballot on Oct. 23.

Some qualified electors evidently are under the impression that if they voted in the Dominion general election last June 11, they will be able to vote in the forthcoming provincial contest without registering again. This is not so. The federal lists have no relationship whatsoever to the provincial lists. They simply do not exist.

In any case, moreover, even those who voted in this province four years ago should make quite sure that their names have not been removed, either by mistake or for some other reason. Every voter should see that his or her name is on the roll. The time for doing this will expire one week from today. Five minutes after that will be too late.

ROMANIA WANTS PEACE

ROMANIA'S PREMIER PETRU GROZA and three of his ministers have been in the Soviet capital conferring with Generalissimo Stalin. They are anxious to know the Russian leader's view on the eventual peace treaty which the men of Bucharest will be expected to sign. While there is no longer any question about the annexation of Bessarabia, there is still the problem of Transylvania which has been bandied about between Hungary and Romania for centuries. Hungary also wants peace with the United Nations, and the boundaries between these two countries—the cause of many conflicts—provide a formidable barrier to peace. On the final result of the conversations with Generalissimo Stalin, therefore, depends not a little of the pattern of future European accord.

Under the Iron Guard government of General Antonescu, it must be remembered, Romania became an ally of Germany—and afforded the Fuehrer a good deal of assistance in the Nazi invasion of the Soviet Union. It was common report that the Antonescu regime was offered Odessa, the great Russian port on the Black Sea, as compensation for its support of Hitler. Control of the great oil-fields at Ploesti, not far from Bucharest, was one of the tremendous economic advantages enjoyed by the Nazis through their "use" of Romania. The reconquest of the country by Russia, of course, necessitated military reoccupation, and was followed by the annexation of Bessarabia, the Romanian province bordering the Soviet Union which formerly constituted part of Russia. A temporary government was established under Russian auspices. Romania, however, wants to obtain a peace treaty, not with Russia, but with the United Nations, with whom Russia is not only in alliance, but as a permanent member of the Security Council to whom Russia is responsible for peace in the world. This explains Groza's "mission to Moscow."

'THE ROBERT'S IN'

IN THE DAYS WHEN SHIP MOVEMENTS were supposed to be closely guarded secrets and newspapers refrained from any mention of arrivals and departures, the grapevine immediately flashed over Victoria the news when H.M.C.S. Prince Robert reached this port. It was a one-sentence dispatch, told by starry-eyed young things looking forward to seeing sweethearts aboard the vessel. "The Robert's in." That was all. But it meant a great deal more. It meant a rush to the hairdressers, frantic ironing in preparation for an evening out, and the abbreviated pleasures of renewed romances and friendships in the short time between arrival and departure.

Now the comings and goings of vessels are an open book. Once again the Robert's in—this time at Kowloon. And it has meant a world of happiness for those Canadians who have been in the toils of the Japanese for the last three or four years. Aboard that hospitable ship, released prisoners of war have been given the fare for which they longed during their incarceration.

In its wardrobe they have regained contact with a world they knew and for which they fought. And Victorians, who have always been close to the Robert, feel a family pride that the men aboard her can help fellow Canadians as they have done.

'I'M NEW HERE'

WHATEVER MAY BE THE POLITICAL persuasion of the reader, he must have experienced a friendly glow when he read the original interview given by Mr. Wilfred "Bucko" McDonald, M.P. for Parry Sound, in Ottawa last week. Mr. McDonald—he still wishes to be known as "Bucko," the name by which thousands of hockey fans hailed him—quickly dropped his effort at unfamiliar dignity when reporters talked to him. After one abortive effort at "stiff shirtism," he grinned and explained his position.

"I'm new here. I figure that for the time being at least I'll sit back and listen and get to know what goes on. That's the wise thing to do, isn't it?"

One has to like a man with such frankness. He knows he is not an experienced parliamentarian rich in expression and theory. But he should also know that he represents a wide swath of Canadian citizenship, the type that loves its sport and is impressed by simple virtues. And it is a good thing for democracy that such men as "Bucko" McDonald go to Parliament. They are not enmeshed in doctrine and dogma. They can bring to their approach to problems the directness of a defenceman checking a fast-skating forward.

Bruce Hutchison

TO YOU, MRS. PERKINS
MRS. DOREEN PERKINS, of Ashted, Surrey, makes more sense than all the economists of the world laid end to end, where they belong.

The names of Ashted, Surrey, in 'The London Evening Standard,' have stood enough. We gave our men freely for the freedom we have now won; and what are we given now that the fighting has ended? The best years of our lives, together with our homes together, our families clothed and fed. This we can do no longer unless we are given immediate relief."

These words merit emphasis, for they give us a picture of Britain, a sense of human reality, which never gets into the parliamentary speeches and official documents. At once the cry of this obscure woman, Doreen Perkins, of Ashted, Surrey, strips away all the pompous verbiage, all the trade statistics, all the jargon of the economists and reveals the problem of Britain for what it is—a human problem, the tragedy of millions of little unknown people who "have stood enough."

THE economists will go on explaining for years and generations what happened to Britain in our time. Books and libraries will be written about it and the statistics will fill the cellars of Whitehall. But all this litter will mean nothing and have no importance whatever beside the simple words of Mrs. Perkins. Quite unknowingly she has uttered a great truth generally overlooked in our time—namely, that economics is made for man and not man for economics.

You wouldn't know that, listening to the economists. You would think that man was a figure in a ledger, a decimal point in the report of the Bank of Canada, an abstract fact, without blood or passion, to be manipulated on an adding machine and carefully bundled away in a bluebook. You listen to the economists and presently, as they talk (usually over a good lunch and a highball) the whole problem of Britain resolves itself into charts and graphs and tariff negotiations and currency controls which neither eat nor drink.

IT is only when Mrs. Perkins takes pen in hand down in Surrey that you realize, with a start, that the economists are talking and thinking only in symbols. The fact, the simple fact and the only important fact in the world, is Mrs. Perkins. She is Britain. She is the human being in Britain and everywhere who suddenly rises, unable to listen to any more from the economists, sweeps their graphs aside and says she has stood enough. Before her, all through history, states, governments and thrones have trembled, and economists have hastily revised before nightfall every immutable theory which they proclaimed in the morning.

Mrs. Perkins should be enough for us in Canada. We need to hear no more from Britain. We don't need statistics, we don't want to hear about trade balances, we thrust away all the dollar signs, we push the economists into the corner and we resolve to send some food and clothing to Mrs. Perkins who, God knows, has stood enough.

THEREUPON another sovereign truth emerges, after deep burial in the intellectual debris of our time—namely, that sound economics and sound morality are one. For years now the economists have tried to contrive their mysteries in secret, to separate their science from all others, to pretend that they are working alone in the region of pure ideas; and this theory that economics is a science and not merely a description of how men make a living has led us into the destruction of sound economics throughout the world. For we have tried to achieve economic solutions without moral solutions. We have imagined that we could do good business for ourselves without any consideration for the good of other people. We have assumed that we could be moral while practising everywhere economic immorality and cutting our neighbor's throat.

Now, in the gathering of hushed economists and round-shouldered professors, up stands Mrs. Perkins and, perhaps without knowing it, tells us that the only sound economics is honesty and charity and the succor of those who have done their best and already, on our behalf, have stood enough; and had we followed that simple principle, had we listened to Mrs. Perkins years ago, we would not be where we are today.

IF we, with the riches of North America, refuse to listen to Mrs. Perkins now, if we try to manage all human affairs in abstractions and trade balances and currency controls, if we try to squeeze the blood and life and juice out of Mrs. Perkins and reduce all humanity to mere figures and economic theory, we may build a perfectly-managed world, an economic Utopia but it will be no place for human beings to live in. They have stood enough.

NO COURT DISTURBANCE

Among the hundreds who filed to their places in Logans Hall for the trial of Vidkun Quisling were 150 press representatives, including the largest number of foreign correspondents ever assembled in Norway. The hundred photographers who were also admitted to the proceedings were immediately informed, however, that no flash pictures or any activities which might distract the attention of the court would be permitted. Though the spectators invited already represented a careful selection of Scandinavian and Allied judges, lawyers, and legal authorities, everyone was carefully re-examined before entering the hall. Forty special telephones had been installed, and when a call came through for a certain press representative, his number was silently flashed on a special board on the courtroom wall. There was to be no disturbance at this trial.

Letters To The Editor

HYPOTHETICAL?

While I was in the service I often heard men saying of the camp equipment, "Oh! somebody will get it after the war for some very low price and make others pay a good price on it."

Why should not the taxpayers, service and ex-service people get an opportunity to get some of this useful equipment at fair prices, either by auction or otherwise? Did we not all help to pay for it and will be paying for it? Are we going to start postwar life by showing favors to a few and ignoring the rights and needs of the many? Let us remember that selfishness breeds war, so let's get square and make an effort along every line to stay square, businessmen and all.

H. B. SAYWARD,
1184 Craigflower Road.

TEN-CENT COFFEE

We have conquered the Germans and the Japs, but have not overcome 10-cent coffee. The price of the ingredients—coffee, sugar, cream—are practically the same as when we had 5-cent coffee. A survey shows that even at retail prices there is a good profit in coffee with two lumps of sugar at 5 cents per cup, while the restaurant, which buys at wholesale, gives one lump of sugar and charges us 10 cents. Coffee and milk are not rationed, but a recent further reduction of 15 per cent in the sugar ration was passed on as a 50 per cent reduction, one lump instead of two, and it is noticeable that a number of people do not take sugar in their coffee. At the lunch rush hour, an extra charge might be made to prevent undue dawdling over 5-cent coffee, when real lunch customers are waiting, which is only reasonable.

S. SMILES,
600 Union Building.

ARAB AND JEW

I am drunken, not with wine, but with your most enlightening editorial which says: "The Arabs are a Semitic race."

The western world, which should know better, has not yet accepted that tremendous racial understanding, and when the final judgments are set, we may have to answer for the trouble of the Middle East, before a powerful Semitic world, not the Jews, nor the Arabs.

The significance of your wise editorial is that this racial understanding, will finally settle the fundamental questions of racial disagreements, because when we accept this hard truth, that the Arabs are Semitic, we must accept the fact, too, that they are Hebrews, and of the sons of Abraham, and when we accept that, we will find that we, too, are Hebrews and Semitic and also the Russians, and some peoples of India.

Your editorial clears away a lot of doubt. The Hamitic world of Babylonian confusion is passing out, with the roar of a wounded beast. Let it go.

STANLEY WESTERN,
2860 Gorge View Drive.

OUR WATER

The opponents of chlorination seem to imply that it was imposed on the people of Victoria simply to annoy them and injure their health. This would be a strange proceeding for an administration dependent on popular favor for its support. During the two weeks or so that it was not known that chlorination was already in effect, I do not remember seeing any letters in the papers or hearing of any complaints.

The Big Five Council of Foreign Ministers, meeting in London tomorrow, will in effect constitute a clinic which will give Europe a drastic overhauling and determine the real state of peace's health.

This council was established at the Potsdam meeting of the Big Three. The nucleus, of course, was Britain, Russia and the United States—to which France and China were added. The task assigned the council was "to continue the necessary work for the peace settlement." It was specified that the treaty with Italy would be first on the list.

The very nature of this assignment means the foreign ministers are bound to uncover any weaknesses in the relations of the Big Five. Of special moment will be the status of the relationship among the Big Three, upon whom so largely depends the maintenance of world peace. We shall learn whether the divergence of views—which certainly exists in some particulars among this mighty trio—is serious.

The affairs of Italy are so complicated that other problems likely will have to be solved before a treaty can be drawn up. The way things look now, the badly tangled skein of Balkan politics will have to be straightened out.

Here the highly delicate question of spheres of influence arises. Before the war British influence was dominant in Greece and was strong in Turkey. In the rest of the Balkans and Hungary, Hitler was in control, although both Romania and Yugoslavia at one time were pro-British. Now, Russian influence has supplanted that of Germany.

This whole question of the spread of Communism in eastern and southeastern Europe will have to be ironed out. So far as one can see, it will fall to the

The Italian treaty involves not only the frontiers of Italy in Europe but Rome's large former African possessions. In Europe the situation is complicated by the claim of Yugoslavians to the government of the Italian port of Trieste.

RESIDENTS OF FAIRFIELD and GONZALES

We are sorry, too!

WE REGRET that we have been unable to serve Fairfield and Gonzales residents with THE SERVICE WE OFFERED ON MAY 26 LAST. WE ARE DETERMINED TO CONTINUE OUR EFFORTS TO PROVIDE THE RESIDENTS OF GREATER VICTORIA WITHIN THE THREE-MILE RADIUS WITH A 5¢ FARE AND AN 80¢ WEEKLY PASS AND THE FULL ADVANTAGES OF BLUE LINE SERVICE, including A CONNECTING SERVICE INTO OAK BAY. This is only fair to the people who have supported us and want the service we offer!

WE REGRET ANY INCONVENIENCE that has been occasioned by what has transpired SINCE WE MADE THE OFFER NEARLY FOUR MONTHS AGO! We did not anticipate the conflicting application made by the B.C. Electric, who claim that by reason of No. 6 street car line inaugurated 36 years ago to serve Cook Street and Ross Bay Cemetery they have prior rights in an area comprising 17½% of the population of the city.

The merits of our appeal will, of course, be sub judice and we must wait the result accordingly.

Home Town Letter

DEAR
ALL police departments of the Greater Victoria area are scouring the south end of Vancouver Island for the 30-year-old hold-up man who entered the country home of Mrs. Massy Gooden on Sayward Road, 10 miles from the city. He made her turn over all the money she had in the house, then marched her and her 16-year-old daughter, Gillian, to a car in an attempt to kidnap the girl and hold her for $50,000 ransom.

Wearing a white mask and armed with a blue-steel automatic, he bound and gagged Ann, 21-year-old daughter. He left her tied to a bed while he forced Mrs. Gooden and Gillian into their own car. He held his gun to Mrs. Gooden's head, making her drive him to the gate. While he was trying to force Gillian to transfer to his car the girl worked the gag from her mouth and began to scream. Muttering he had been double-crossed, the bandit made a successful get-away.

When first discovered in their house the bandit had announced he was in the army for four years, receiving a rotten deal. He warned the Goodens he would kill them if necessary.

AFTER a rainy Labor Day school bells rang out for 10,000 students in Greater Victoria and school hallways, still for the last two months, echoed to the familiar tread. With 218 students already and registrations still coming in, Victoria College expects an enrollment of 350 this year, highest in the institution's history. Forty-seven servicemen have already registered and more are expected.

DISBANDMENT of the A.R.P. in B.C. has been announced by Premier John Hart, who stated the provincial government would give equipment to all municipalities and districts. Premier Hart paid tribute to W. C. Mainwaring, chairman of the advisory council on A.R.P. Wet skies didn't dampen the enthusiasm of the 3,000 who attended the Saanichton Fair. They came to admire the vegetable, fruit and flower displays, the exhibits of cooking, school work, bottled fruit, and cattle show. They also saw the saddle events, where many of the horses were ridden by their owners, and the Highland dancing events. Lieutenant-Governor Woodward opened the fair and told the crowd it was the oldest fair west of the Great Lakes.

DEATH came to two well-known Victorians, James Frederick Mesher, 75, long connected with political and sports circles, and Fanny Walls, widow of John Patmore Walls, who resided at 657 Superior Street. She was born on a sailing ship off Cape Horn. First peacetime investiture was held at Government House this week. Lieutenant-Governor Woodward pinned awards on 19 B.C. heroes, including Lieut. Aubrey Charles Peck, M.C., nephew of Col. Cy Peck, V.C.; Vancouver's "three musketeers," Lt. Cmdr. Conny Burke, D.S.C. and two Bars; Lt. Cmdr. J. D. Maitland, D.S.C. and one Bar; Lieut. T. E. Ladner, D.S.C. and one Bar; Cmdr. C. A. King, D.S.O., D.S.C., and Cpl. Sidney Charles Butterick, M.M.

ONLY MILL of its kind in south Vancouver Island, P.W. Sawmills Ltd., has been in production since Aug. 1, handling small logs which ordinary mills have been unable to handle. The company operated in connection with Moore-Whittington Lumber Co. Ltd., but not a subsidiary, is producing for veterans' houses in Victoria. It is located on Selkirk Water. Selective Service has reported more than 900 jobs open to men here with 365 vacancies for unskilled workers. There is no general movement of war workers away from the city as they are discharged. Instead, they are being absorbed in peacetime occupations.

A LEGAL BATTLE may result from the Public Utilities Commission decision to give the new Gonzales-Fairfield bus route to the B.C. Electric. Blue Line Transit and Taxi Co., which also applied to operate the service has appealed the decision to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council. A long battle appeared a likelihood if the matter got into the appeal court. Cobble Hill's 36th annual fall fair was attended by 1,500. Lieutenant-Governor Woodward opened the show. Ft. Lt. Malcolm Gerrard Gillespie is home with his parents at Cowichan after being released early this year from a German prison camp.

VICTORIA'S concert parties which in the last six years have entertained thousands of servicemen, were honored at a dinner given by Citizens' War Services entertainment committee. From army and navy heads they received thanks for their work. Evelyn Harper has gone east to join the piano faculty of the Ralph Wolfe Conservatory of Music in New Rochelle, N.Y. No. 6 R.C.A.F. Convalescent Hospital which has handled some 750 R.C.A.F. patients since its establishment at Royal Colwood Golf Club will be closed Oct. 1. Rev. G. H. Scarret, B.A., University School headmaster, has been admitted to the priesthood of the Church of England. H.M.C.S. Gattineau is now based at Esquimalt for training duties.

CHARLES "Chuck" Kinney, 17-year-old Victoria High School classmate of Phyllis Stroud, was formally charged in city police court with murdering her on V-J night at her home, 2658 Roseberry Avenue. His mother is expected in Victoria this week-end from Halifax and his father will follow later. Dressed in a green-grey jacket, blue slacks and white sweater, Kinney showed no sign of emotion as the charge was read. He had testified at the coroner's inquest last week which followed finding of Phyllis Stroud's almost nude body buried in the sawdust bin in the basement of her home. The accused was to have entered college this fall to study for the ministry. During the summer he had been employed at the Empress Hotel laundry.

With the permit system for housing lifted the housing registry reported no family accommodation of any kind in Victoria.

ENGAGED are Margaret Campbell and Preston Weir, Marjorie Timberlake and Lindsay Alexander, Gwendolyn Macrina Boothe and Lieut. John Thurston Parker, R.C.N.V.R.; Lieut. (NS.) Patricia Lamb, R.C.A.M.C., and Lieut. Gaston J. Michau, Isla Elizabeth Mitchell and FL. Bruce A. Harper, R.C.A.F.; Dorothy Isabel Murphy and Capt. Harold Douglas Freeston, Alice Gertrude Anderson and Edward Reginald Owen, Elizabeth Mary Seaman and John Arthur Turner, Millicent Margaret Hughes and St. Charles Kennedy Buckley, R.N.; Eileen Constance O'Dell and Bertram Howard Parsons.

BIRTHS announced this week include to Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Barlow, a son; Mr. and Mrs. Colin McAllister, a son; Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Sanson, a son; Lieut.

and Mrs. C. R. Bays, a daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rainsford, a daughter; Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Humphries, a daughter.

Mills and Gustafson Thrill Big Crowd In Clever Mat Bout

To another good house Jim Downing presented a card of appreciation for the wrestling fans on their toes most of the time Saturday night at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

Albert Mills of London and Cliff Gustafson, Minnesota, drew in the headliner. Ed "Strangler" Lewis used his headlock on Bob Kruse and twisted Bob's neck to the extent that Lewis won with Bob unable to continue. Lou Newman beat Jim Wright of Texas.

Gustafson, young pupil of Lewis, came with an imposing record of victories, but found in the older and heavier Mills an experienced grappler with a lot of tricks to make up for the greater agility which the younger possessed. In the third round, Mills clamped on a headlock and, holding on to it, rolled Cliff around until he was ready to pin his shoulders for the first fall. Cliff evened the bout in the fifth with some spectacular body slams calling for an amazing display of strength.

Jim Wright of Texas and Lou Newman, former Sooke boy who has made good in the mat game, provided the excitement for those who like it rough and rugged. Newman lost the first fall to the second when he failed to break from a headlock. By this time pretty nearly everything went and elbows were used freely. With Wright groggy from punishment

Socreds to Nominate Loughheed, Lukes

Nominating convention of the Social Credit party at which candidates will be named for the forthcoming general election, Newman evened in the third. Weakened again from an elbow punch in the fourth, Wright lost another fall early in the round.

Oct. 25 provincial general election will be held at 8 Tuesday night at 224 Pemberton Building, it was announced by party officers today.

It is believed M. F. Loughheed, cafe proprietor and unsuccessful candidate in the June 11 Dominion general election, and Maj. A. H. Lukes, D.S.C., O.B.E., who has been prominent in the Social Credit Association of Canada, will be nominated to carry the Social Credit standard in Victoria.

John Sandercock, 1737 Fairfield Road, 12-year-old son of the Rev. K. L. Sandercock, Rector of St. Matthias Church, and Mrs. Sandercock, with his golden cocker spaniel "Blondie" and his pet goose "Donald."

A tame goose that goes for walks with members of the family and their dog is the unusual pet of John and Peter Sandercock, 1737 Fairfield Road, young sons of the Rev. K. L. Sandercock, rector of St. Matthias Church, and Mrs. Sandercock.

"Donald," as John 12, and his eight-year-old brother, Peter, call their pet, was found by Sam Clegg, 40 Gorge West, a friend of the family, who one day last spring saw the small gosling waddling across his lawn.

John and Peter have brought up the goose since. They have grown fond of it and take it for walks together with their golden cocker spaniel, Blondie, which has become a chum of the goose and plays with it.

Donald has been taught to come to the boys when they call him and is fed by them with mash which they buy out of their own allowance.

WAR VETERANS' CORNER

QUESTIONS

Here are answers to some of the questions being asked by veterans:

Can my re-establishment credit be used to reduce the mortgage on my house? Yes. Apply to the District Supervisor of Re-establishment Credit at the nearest office of the Department of Veterans' Affairs.

Is there any provision for loans to veterans who want to set up in business? Not under the rehabilitation program. Re-establishment credit, which is a grant, not a loan, may be used.

Is it true that I am entitled to free medical and dental treatment for one year after discharge? Yes. Both services are provided through the Department of Veterans' Affairs.

Can I apply for my re-establishment credit to help pay the down payment on a small holding under the Veterans' Land Act? No. You may apply for both vocational training and a small holding. But the credit is intended primarily for those who do not take advantage of either of these benefits.

DEPARTMENT INVESTIGATES

An ex-serviceman must prove to the satisfaction of the Department of Veterans' Affairs that he has something commercially feasible before he may invest his re-establishment credit in a business of his own. Ex-gunner Archie Rayner of Ottawa is glad that such a thorough investigation is made. On returning from service he was told by a business broker he could buy a fish and chip store for $1,800, which was grossing $300 a week and was free of encumbrance. Investigation showed the business had been operating at a loss for two months and had a chattel mortgage against the equipment of $600. CSM. Kenneth McHattie of Toronto had been out of the army less than a week when he was offered a little restaurant for $3,000, payable in $1,000 cash and the balance by chattel mortgage. He was told the business was netting $85 a week. But investigation showed the restaurant operated only in the daytime, no books were kept, and by no stretch of imagination could an $85 a week profit be made. The government is on its toes to see that such rackets are squashed, but the Department of Veterans' Affairs points out that it is also up to the veteran to guard his own interests.

BEWARE OF RACKETS

One of the most fruitful rackets at present in Canada exists in some section of the retail furniture business, according to the Department of Veterans' Affairs. Most furniture store merchants are honest, but there are exceptions to the rule, and the law already has caught up with some of these people. In one case, in a large eastern city, a furniture dealer, told a veteran that he must spend all his re-establishment credit in one store. The result was that the veteran stocked up with a lot of household equipment he did not really need. The bill was nearly $1,200. The law stepped in and fortunately for the veteran, the deal was canceled.

4,066 On Empress

CSM. C. R. Underwood, 568 Vincent Avenue, described the Canadian coastline as the nicest sight he had seen in five years when he arrived at Quebec Sunday after a 3½-day Atlantic crossing. ### United Church For Prohibition

The United Church stands firm in its demand that the sale of liquor be curtailed rather than loosened, Rev. Hugh McLeod told his congregation Sunday evening at First United Church. He declared that it was the duty of the church to guide and lead, not to follow majorities, and his church implored the government to restrict the sale of liquor.

Dr. McLeod's statement on the subject is as follows:

"During the summer there were discussions in this pulpit and elsewhere on the liquor laws of British Columbia. Doubtless our Presbytery will soon make an expression on the subject in view of its importance. Meantime, in view of the widespread and controversial nature of references already made, you will look for a pronouncement as to the stand of this pulpit. Let me assure you that I stand where our United Church stands, for total abstinence and for self-denial, for our own sakes and for the sake of others (as St. Paul enjoins), and especially for the sake of our young people.

"Our church, in place of encouraging governments to extend the traffic, implores them to restrict it, and supports them as they seek to do so. The idea expressed in some quarters that the evils of bootlegging and drunkenness will be curtailed by the freer use and availability of intoxicants (of whatever kind), is, in error, in the light of the facts of the history of liquor legislation and its effects in this country and in the United States. Its wider extension invariably increases its evils in every direction.

"The appeal to the majority as being in favor of unrestricted sale of intoxicants, is not valid in my view and in the view of the United Church. We are not here to be led by majorities, even if they favor freer availability of intoxicants (which, in Victoria, is by no means certain)—we are here rather to guide, influence, and witness to, majorities, though we should stand alone; we are here to offer such guidance, influence and witness, in all charity and kindness, in recognition of different views and convictions and of the freedom to reach the same, but with a firmness which is not based on either compromise or expediency.

"It will probably be necessary for me to declare in more detail if this subject is publicly pursued further. It has already been efficiently and devotedly dealt with in this pulpit in my absence. In the meantime the above is my position—Here I stand, God helping me I can do no other."

No Money Returned

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pickpockets with a conscience are giving Los Angeles postmen their newest—and biggest—headaches these days.

Acting Postmaster Michael D. Fanning said the "honest" thieves now remove the money from the victims' billfolds and drop them into mail-boxes. Mailmen have to deliver them, and as a result their owners are able to recover social security cards, licenses and other papers.

Money rarely finds its way back, however.

DID YOU SLEEP WELL LAST NIGHT?

Did you rest well or poorly? If you didn't get a good night's rest—waking up feeling and looking tired—try the bedtime habit of thousands who get sound, restful sleep. Take a cup of Ovaltine warm at bedtime.

Taken at bedtime, Ovaltine helps to relieve that feeling of nervous tension. Its special food elements, processed for easy digestion, and its rich supply of Vitamins A, B<sub>1</sub>, and D and the minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron help to replenish worn out muscle, nerve and body cells.

So why not try Ovaltine? See if it doesn't help you to wake up fresher and more buoyant. Get Ovaltine at your drug or food store.

Have Own Ideas About Family Allowance

Since Family Allowance cheques have ceased to be a novelty, there is quite a change in the handling of these by parents.

At first, most of these cheques were cashed immediately, but now—many planned savings accounts are being opened by mothers who prefer to set this money aside for a rainy day. Other parents have started accounts in their own names in trust for their children. Either idea is good because the money grows at interest and is instantly available if needed.

Family Allowance money deposited here will increase faster because we pay "higher-than-ordinary" interest (2%). Chequing privileges can be arranged.

Stands Crowded at First Peacetime Race Meet

An atmosphere of gaiety and expectancy prevailed at the Willows track Saturday afternoon as Victoria ushered in its first peacetime race meet in six years. Visitors from Vancouver, eastern Canada, and from across the border mingled with Victorians in a crowd which filled the grandstand and overflowed into the promenade.

Mrs. Tom Christie was there, wearing a smartly tailored grey pin-stripe suit with grey felt hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Palmer, the latter in a cocoa-brown ensemble with tall crowned hat. Miss Marcia Prior in a black dressmaker suit with fine tucking on the jacket, and Mrs. Elise Wilson in grey with tiny off-the-face grey hat discussed their choice with Frank Morris. Mrs. Andy Taylor looked very chic in a suit of fine blue and white check with narrow-brimmed blue sailor. Mrs. W. E. M. Mitchell, with a blue-grey topcoat over tailored blue frock. Mrs. Max Frost, in a tailored check suit. Kathleen Pressley in black. Mrs. Brook Stephenson in a lime-green top over a black dress, with a tiny black hat. Mrs. K. L. McLennan, wearing a chocolate-brown ensemble, brown fur jacket and tiny green feather hat.

Mrs. Betty Hetherington, in navy blue suit and hat with top of blue and grey tweed, in a box with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Baker Jr. Mrs. D. D. McTavish, in navy ensemble with fawn topcoat, accompanied by Ald. D. D. McTavish, in the mayor's box. With Premier Hart and Donald Gordon, head of the W.P.T.B. at Ottawa, who is vacationing in Victoria, were Douglas Dewar, former vice-president of W.P.

T.B. Bruce Buckenfield, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at London, Ont., who has just recently retired; James Stewart, assistant general manager of Canadian Bank of Commerce, Toronto, and J. K. Campbell, Victoria manager of Canadian Bank of Commerce.

In the judges' box were Mrs. Earl Lewis, Dr. and Mrs. W. J. McKown and Mr. Harry Duker. Mr. and Mrs. George Randall were there with a party of friends.

Others seen taking a keen delight in the events of the afternoon included: A. L. McLellan of Vancouver, Lt.-Cmdr. Ross, Harry Maynard, E. Foote, Mrs. and Miss Hatt of Seattle, Mr. J. Reid and party, Cmdr. Lalor, U.S.N.; Mr. Arnold Quigley, Vancouver; Mrs. J. H. Lee, Mr. J. Fields, Mr. S. W. Randall, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Kiltz, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Park, Miss Florence Stephenson.

Personal Notes

A miscellaneous shower, honoring Miss Irene Scoble of Vancouver, was held by Mrs. R. E. Hundley and her sister, Mrs. R. Fitzsimmons, at the home of their mother, Mrs. W. S. Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. R. Boyle, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Perkins of Regina, are visitors in Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Moir, Langford, have gone to Vancouver to visit friends.

Mrs. Tom Bales, who has been spending a vacation in Seattle, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. Catterall, returned to his Langford home at the week-end.

Mrs. Walter Ellers, who with her two daughters, has spent the summer months at Langford Lake, returned to her home in Regina.

Mrs. J. P. Robitaille and her young son, John Paul Jr., left Sunday evening by plane for Montreal where they will join Lieut. Robitaille. They will make their home in the eastern city.

Mrs. Desmond Patterson and her two daughters, Sean and Michelle are the guests of Mrs. H. Patterson Linden Avenue. After entering her daughters at Norfolk House School, Mrs. Patterson will return to Vancouver until the end of the month when she and Lt.-Cmdr. W. Desmond Patterson, R.C.N.V.R., will come to Victoria to make their home on Crescent Road.

Mrs. H. McKenzie, 968 Gorge Road West, was hostess at a kitchen shower recently in honor of Miss Vicky Walker. A buffet supper was served. Mrs. C. R. Walker and Mrs. John Peden presided at the tea urns. Guests were: Mesdames R. S. Gordon, H. V. Lane, D. G. Pennock, J. E. Moore, C. Margison, G. Gerneroy, and Misses Gwen, Mann, Eva-Lind Hunter and Joan Saul.

Wed Friday Evening, To Live in Toronto

The marriage was solemnized Friday evening in the chapel of St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, of Lilyan Florence (Bate), eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Page, 1736 Lee Avenue, and Sgt. Frederick Errol McCleGGott, R.C.A.F., only son of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. C. McCleGGott, Toronto. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns read the service.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a two-piece ensemble of power blue wool with black accessories and a corsage bouquet of roses. Miss Jean Page was her sister's only attendant, frocked in leaf green wool with brown accessories and a corsage bouquet of gladioli. Sgt. Ben Wilson of North Bay, Ont., was groomsmen.

A small reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, when her mother was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. R. B. Simm, a family friend. J. D. Nicholson proposed the toast to the bride. Miss Joy Simm provided music during the evening. For a honeymoon trip to the mainland, the bride donned a powder blue coat with astrakhan trim over her wedding dress. Sgt. and Mrs. McCleGGott will make their home in Toronto.

Cora Mickelson Bride Of Wilfred Fraser

A floor-length gown of white chiffon with a white circular veil caught to a coronet of orange blossoms was the costume chosen by Cora Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Mickelson, 180 St. Charles Street, for her marriage Sept. 1 at 2 to Wilfred Douglas Fraser, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Fraser, 1049 Pandora Avenue.

Rev. E. M. Smiley officiated at the ceremony which took place in Victoria Truth Centre.

Given away by her father, the bride carried a bouquet of white gladioli, red roses and gardenias showered with Sweetheart roses. Mrs. H. Lupu was matron of honor wearing a gown of pale green organdie and Miss E. Mickelson was bridesmaid, in ice-blue crepe. Both carried bouquets of gladioli. L. Fraser supported his brother.

A reception was held at 180 St. Charles Street, where Rev. Smiley toasted the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraser will reside at 1485 Fort Street after honeymoon up-island. Going away, the bride wore a beige gabardine suit, brown topcoat and brown accessories. Her corsage bouquet was of Talisman roses.

No lady ever thinks of a Tweed Coat without considering a Harris Tweed. Of course not ALL Harris Tweeds are of the same quality but those just arrived at Scurrahs are definitely the highest quality hand-woven models and yet the price is only $39.75. The colors are simply superb and there are some new shades never before seen in a Harris. And in Sports Coats of other fine makes there is a very wide range of both plain colors and mixtures, some with velvet collars and embodying Sports adaptations of the new sleeve and pocket features. Then, of course, with Sports Coats we must mention our specialty, Christy of London pure felt hats, light as a feather, and only $8.50.

Hostess House
Closes Soon

Final dance at the Victoria Hostess Club will be held on Oct. 20, bringing to a close five years of volunteer work in which more than half a million N.C.O.'s and men of the navy, army, air force and the merchant marine were entertained.

Although this club was registered under the National War Charities Act in November, 1940, it has been supported solely by private subscription. On July 31, 1945, when the subscription books were closed, a sum of $5,731 had been contributed. Salaries were paid to a caretaker and one assistant. Some small profits were made on sales. Every day, from 3.30 until closing time, a snack bar and dry canteen has been available to those who visited the club. Many dances have been held, all well attended. The music was provided voluntarily by service and civilian orchestras. Writing tables with stationery, reading tables with magazines, papers and games were there for everyone.

At the Hostess Club, it was all volunteer work. Membership fees were paid by 500 junior hostesses, while senior members handled the dry canteen, entertainment, commissariat, games, kitchen dancing, collecting and washing dishes, music and checkrooms. The governing board consisted of P. E. Winslow, Princess Chikmatoff, Mrs. J. W. Spencer, Mrs. Morkill, Mrs. Hetherington, W. H. M. Haldane and Mrs. H. F. Crowe.

Among volunteer workers who have been with the club since the beginning are: Mrs. Alan Morkill, president; Mrs. H. F. Crowe, first vice-president; Mrs. J. Sutherland Brown, second vice-president; Mrs. Helen Hetherington, Mrs. Lennox Irving, Mrs. William C. Todd, Mrs. Maude Ross, Mrs. A. D. Beckel, Mrs. Harry Briggs, Mrs. F. W. Hartley. Others were: Col. F. G. Hood and Mrs. Hood, Mrs. F. E. Winslow, Mrs. F. G. Mulliner, Mrs. A. W. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Grant, Brig. J. Sutherland Brown and Reeves Cawley.

Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix: Two very fine men are in love with me and I can't make up my mind which one I should marry. One is 20 years my senior. He has money, a flourishing business and a bright future. He promises me everything if I marry him and if I marry him I know I will be happy and contented as his wife. The other is about my age and I am very much in love with him, but he has nothing to give me and no future prospects for a good job after the war. Also, he has an aged father and mother to support on a meager salary. Please help me to decide which is more important—to marry for love without security, or to marry security without love?

F. C. B.

Answer: When Mr. Puck was asked about whether one should marry or stay single, he replied: "Whichever one you do, you will regret it." That reply seems to cover your case.

If you marry your rich suitor, you will go hungering and thirsting for love, and if you marry your poor one, you will spend your life pining for filet mignon. So the matter narrows itself down to our individual taste, and whether you would rather walk in silk attire and have silver to spare, or wear basement bargains and pinch pennies. And only you can decide that matter.

Personals

Mrs. T. F. Calder of Point Grey, Vancouver, is a guest at the Douglas Hotel.

Mrs. Gordon Money, with her children, Gordon and Susan, returned to Vancouver on Sunday after a few days spent in the city.

Mrs. C. R. Walker, 2645 Dewdney Avenue, entertained Sunday afternoon at a trousseau tea in honor of her daughter, Miss Vicky Walker, who is to be married this week. Mrs. H. Y. Lane presided at the tea table. There were 25 guests present.

Mrs. Kenneth Gooding, with her small daughter, Leslie Jill, is a visitor in Victoria, the guest of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hamilton-Browne, McKenzie Street. Mrs. Gooding will return to California in about three weeks.

The infant daughter of Capt. and Mrs. J. Edwin Moore, 2585 Dufferin Street, received the names, Wendy Heather, at a christening ceremony held Sunday afternoon at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns officiated. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Newcombe acted as godparents. Later, tea was served at the home of the baby's parents, Mrs. T. Stevenson presiding.

Mrs. H. Deane entertained at the home of her mother, Mrs. B. Acreman, 1711 Stanley Avenue, with a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Iala Mitchell, a bride-elect of this month. The tea table was presided over by Mrs. A. Mitchell and Mrs. R. Duncan. Other guests were: Mesdames J. Passmore, H. Johns, T. Spencer, T. Handasyde, T. Horne, J. Knowles, A. Cookman, C. MacLean, T. ## Clubwomen

Highlights of Convention—Victoria and Island Branch of Canadian Authors' Association will hold their opening meeting to-night at 8, in Women's Institute Hall 635 Fort Street. Mrs. Eugene Perry, Miss Clarice Hill and Miss Yvonne Stevenson will present the highlights of the recent convention in Seattle for members. A. H. Sutherland will review the book of verse, "Island Trails," by Edith Cuppage.

Canadian Daughters—Mrs. M. E. Gardiner presided at the last meeting of the Canadian Daughters' League, Assembly No. 5, when letters were ordered sent to R. W. Mayhew, M.P., and Ottawa, suggesting the report of the Penal Reform Commission be taken up and acted upon. Toy Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Tanner, 2114 Oregon Street, Tuesday. At the next meeting, Sept. 20, members are requested to bring donations to the handkerchief shower for the fall bazaar, also items for the superfluous stall, and materials suitable for remaking for remake stall. Plans are complete for this event, which will be held Oct. 11. Mrs. J. T. Jones will accept donations of clothing for the coming Red Cross drive for liberated countries.

Metropolitan United Y.P.S.—Fall session will commence Tuesday at 8 in Metropolitan Church. Miss Dorothy Young will speak.

Letter Of Thanks

The following is an extract from a letter received from Comtesse de Suzannet in Paris, who was a prisoner of war for six months, and then became a work among the French war refugees a fund was raised in Victoria by the sale of a booklet, "The Tale of a Belgian Hare."

"Do you think it would be possible to put a small insertion in the newspapers, expressing my deep appreciation and thanks to all the kind and generous friends and acquaintances whose names were signed in the booklet you sent? All this kindness has moved and touched me more, indeed, than I can ever express."

The fund has been closed, but there are still a few copies of the booklet available at Diggon-Hibben library. Moneys will go to the same cause.

Double Ring Ceremony
At Esquimalt Church

In a double ring ceremony at Our Lady Queen of Peace Church on Friday, at 8, Mary-Clare, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Coleman, 670 Pine Street, was married to Francis Edwin Songhurst, only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Songhurst, Edmonton, Alta. Rev. Father Louis McLellan performed the ceremony.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. A. Smith. Her gown was styled with fitted lace bodice, sweetheart neckline, cap sleeves and full-gored satin skirt with slight train. An illusion veil fell from a Mary Stuart headdress and she carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses, carnations, swainsona and maidenhair fern.

Miss Dorothy Coleman, the bride's sister, was maid of honor, in white floral taffeta, in the same styling as the bridal gown, and Norah Coleman, a younger sister, as bridesmaid, was in maize taffeta. Both carried bouquets of mauve and yellow chrysanthemums. The groomsmen were Richard Pacey and Michael Coleman, the bride's brother, with Howard Nuttall, acted as ushers.

A reception was held at the Kit Kat, where the guests were received by Mrs. P. Coleman, assisted by Mrs. Joshua Smith, an aunt of the bride. Decorations were planned by Miss Mary Smith, a cousin of the bride; Mrs. Richard Pacey presided at the lace-covered table, centred with the three-tiered wedding cake, and Joshua Smith, an uncle of the bride, proposed the bridal toast.

For a honeymoon at Banff and Edmonton the bride traveled in a dusty pink crepe dress, straight black coat with Persian lamb tuxedo front, black sequin hat and patent accessories. She also wore a Gruen wrist watch, the gift of the bridegroom. The young couple will reside temporarily in Victoria.

Elks' W.A.—At the last meeting, Mrs. C. Wright announced that fall activities would commence with a progressive whist drive in the Elks' Hall Thursday at 8. All proceeds will aid the Solarium. Next meeting will be held Sept. 21.

Byrne Hope Saunders
Here In November

At a meeting of the Women's Regional Advisory Committee, held recently in the board room at the Belmont Building, Mrs. Paul Smith, who was in the chair, reported that Byrne Hope Saunders, member of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board at Ottawa, would be in Victoria in November. Mrs. Smith expressed the hope that some form of public meeting could be arranged so every woman in Victoria might have the opportunity of hearing Miss Saunders speak. Reports of various committees were heard and plans made for the coming season. A. Food, head of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board in Victoria, addressed the meeting on "Meat Rationing." Later there was a question and discussion period when Mr. Ford was called upon to clarify several points in the forthcoming ration plan.

New Road Brings Port Renfrew Closer And Opens Up Picturesque Valley

SAN JUAN RIVER

BOTANICAL BEACH

PORT SAN JUAN

Residents of Port Renfrew are jubilant over the fact that they are now nearer to the rest of civilization. A new stage service recently inaugurated, enables residents to reach main arteries of travel on Vancouver Island in about two hours, twice weekly, where the only previous link has been by steamer once every 10 days.

Leaving Duncan, the stage passes Shawnigan Lake continuing a further 23 miles along the Koksilah River and through the Kapoor timber holdings, connecting with the 16 miles of main railroad of the Malahat Logging Co., which runs through to Port Renfrew.

This service has been made possible through the recent completion of a new and good road constructed by the logging company at the instigation of the federal government for military purposes to provide additional access to the West Coast.

A large, modern gasoline-powered speeder operated by the logging company over its own railroad, travels down the picturesque valley of the San Juan River to within one and a quarter miles of the Port Renfrew settlement at the mouth of the San Juan, where regular taxi and hotel service is available.

SALMON, STEELHEAD AND TROUT
The opening of this territory should prove of special interest to sportsmen. Large spring salmon and cohoes are now being caught in San Juan harbor; steelheads and trout may be angled in the river. The whole district has an enviable reputation for deer. Grouse are plentiful along the roadway between Kapoor and the far end of the new road.

A portion of the provincial government road between Shawnigan's west arm and the new road is somewhat narrow, but Jim Brearley, general superintendent of the Malahat Logging Co., says he is so enthusiastic over the future possibilities of the route, that he and his associates would gladly undertake to widen the road if the government would arrange for the gravel surface.

lost or apparently lost returned to rightful owners, three of these being dogs, one of which was returned to the owner for the fourth time, another one for the second time. Of the five cats returned to owners, two were picked up by well-meaning citizens but lived practically where they were picked up. Three hundred and three telephone calls were attended to and advice involving sick animals was given in many cases. All serious cases being referred to veterinarians.

Canadians From Hongkong Receiving All Possible Succor At Manila On Way Home

By WILLIAM STEWART

MANILA (CP)—Refreshed by their first sleep between white sheets in more than 3½ years, the first Canadian prisoners recovered from camps in Japan were settled in a converted U.S. replacement depot on the edge of the Philippine capital today.

Their arrival coincided with that of hundreds of U.S. and other Allied recovered prisoners, who also came by air as well as in ships, including light anti-aircraft carriers. Allied prisoners who were stretcher cases were driven in ambulance convoys preceded by military police in jeeps who cleared their way through heavy traffic.

All day as plane load after plane load appeared, the sky was filled with a larger number of heavy aircraft than has been seen here for months. At two airfields the big aircraft were landing at better than the rate of one every 10 minutes. Many of the planes were bombers, crews of which now are devoting themselves to the job of evacuating prisoners from Japan as quickly as possible.

DRAW NEW OUTFITS

The Canadians immediately were able to draw complete new outfits of U.S. tropical wear which a few of them had seen in prison parcels from the Red Cross and which they call "glamor suits" because of their smart appearance.

As they got settled, the Canadians were given a pamphlet issued by the Inter-Service Committee on Prisoners of War, with one section written for military personnel and another for liberated merchant marine personnel. The pamphlet explains what the reception organization here is attempting to do for them, how their next-of-kin will be notified about their safe arrival and details about their pay and a brief line-up of the Canadian government's rehabilitation plans.

The men also were given copies of a message from Lt.-Col. M. W. McNulty of Sherbrooke, Que., head of the Canadian repatriation liaison group working at the replacement depot, a large tented camp.

Col. McNulty's message said: "We consider it a privilege and an honor to have been selected to receive you on your release and dispatch you on your way home. Our main purpose is to get you back to Canada to your loved ones and friends just as quickly as humanly possible."

POOR SUBSTITUTE

"This is merely a staging camp, the first hop on your way home. We have tried to organize it for you as a very temporary home. It can and naturally will be a poor substitute, but we will provide for you some of the amenities and food of which you so long have been deprived."

The job was made much easier by the tremendous effort made by U.S. authorities to put the camp into shape and the complete co-operation the Americans have extended.

Some of the prisoners were lucky enough to get mail from home coming in daily to Canadian group headquarters.

The former prisoners will live in 10-man tents with wood floors, in which they have camp beds with mosquito nets. Prisoners will be permitted a rest before they are interrogated.

Interrogation will be carried out in three easy stages by special officers, including Maj. John Howlett, a Winnipeg Grenadier.

First of all the prisoners will be queried as to their personal records, such as pay, particularly for administrative purposes and military files. Then they will be questioned by Allied specialists assembling war crimes information. The final interrogation will be carried out by Canadian personnel selection representatives for the personal benefit of prisoners when they return home.

Information individuals have concerning the fate of comrades listed as missing, civilians or merchant seamen, also will be gathered.

Preliminary medical examinations will be carried out quickly, a more thorough check-up coming later. The prisoners also will be inoculated against tropical diseases.

During the period until transportation to Canada is available from the Allied shipping pool, the prisoners will have plenty to occupy their time. At the camp are movies, recreation and reading-huts and baseball games at night between service teams, which include peacetime big-name stars. Other entertainment facilities include tennis courts and bowling alleys and there will be tours of Manila and famed battle spots such as Bataan.

Though there will be little opportunity to spend money, because such conveniences as U.S. canteens will dispense smokes and other articles without cost, all other ranks will receive $100 cash for homeward out-of-pocket expenses and officers will get $200.

Siamise Twins Die

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The Miranda Siamise twins died Sunday.

Death appeared to be simultaneous for the baby girls, Louise and Micala, born Aug. 26 in the humble family home near Phoenix.

At the end they had all the advantages of modern medical skill—an incubator, oxygen, penicillin, subcutaneous feeding, a special nurse and fibrin film, a newly developed substance which was used in an attempt to seal the exposed section of their common umbilical area.

The weakened spot ulcerated and broke through, attending physicians said. An attempt at closure could not be satisfactorily performed.

One of the wonders of the case, one physician said, was their successful delivery without medical or nursing help by their maternal grandmother, Carmen Samaniego, 48.

Henry Reifel Dies in 77th Year In Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Henry Reifel, 76, one of British Columbia's best known old-time businessmen, died in a hospital here Saturday night after a short illness.

After starting a small brewery in Vancouver in 1888 with his brother, the late Jack Reifel, Mr. Reifel operated the Union Brewery in Nanaimo.

Following years of successful operation there, he built in 1908 the Canadian Brewing and Malt Company plant in Vancouver, which is now Vancouver Breweries.

He later acquired the Pilsner Brewery of Cumberland and formed an amalgamation with his Nanaimo, Cumberland and Vancouver plants with the old Vancouver brewery interests, becoming president of the new organization.

In 1924 he and associate purchased the B.C. Distillery of New Westminster and later built the Pioneer Distillery at Amersburg, Ont.

The four breweries and two distilleries were formed into the Brewers' and Distillers' Corporation, of which Mr. Reifel remained president until his retirement in 1933, at which time he and his family disposed of all their brewery and distillery interests.

Mr. Reifel was one of the two remaining organizers of the Eagles' Lodge in Nanaimo, a member of Doric Lodge, No. 18, A.F. and A.M., and of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

He was past president of the Nanaimo Pioneers and a member of Vancouver Pioneers.

Mr. Reifel leaves two sons, six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be conducted in Vancouver Wednesday.

Jehovah's Witness Meeting Broken Up

CHATEAUGUAY BASIN, Que. (CP)—An outdoor Bible lecture of the Witnesses of Jehovah was broken up Sunday in this town 30 miles southwest of Montreal, when a crowd estimated at more than 1,000 men, women and children, many armed with canes and sticks, showered them with ripe tomatoes, potatoes and rocks, and placed two powerful sirens in front of the loudspeaker. Earlier, 12 Witnesses had been arrested on charges of distributing circulars without a license and been released on $10 bail pending their arraignment in Valleyfield, Que.

About 90 Witnesses from the Montreal east unit arrived here Sunday morning to join about 25 local members in organizing the first of a series of three public outdoor meetings. Shortly after they began a door-to-door tour, giving a Bible sermon in each house, a round-up was started and 15 persons, including three young-

WHITE WITHOUT BLEACHING

Oxydol is Far Ahead of Other Soaps
in Preventing "Dirty Grayness"

Tests Prove Oxydol Washes Clothes CLEANER and WHITER!

Yes, Whiter! In wash test after wash test—Oxydol proved that it actually washes clothes cleaner and whiter than many other soaps which, unlike Oxydol, fail to get out that last possible trace of stubborn dirt and grime!

White and Bright Wash after Wash! You know, soaps often leave tiny discoloring particles caused by dirt in the clothes and the "hardness" of the water. These impurities stick in the clothes and turn gray or yellow under ironing heat. But Oxydol combats "dirty grayness" in an unusual way. It actually helps prevent these dirty grayness particles from forming in the clothes!

New "Hustle-Bubble" Suds Lift Dirt Out! Oxydol's new "Hustle-Bubble" suds are so active they lift dirt out. And they work longer, too—long after suds from many other soaps are all tired out. Yes, with Oxydol all your white things—except for unusual stains—come so clean they're White Without Bleaching. Sparkling white!

So Safe for Colors, Too! And Oxydol is so safe—safe for wash colors, rayons and your own precious hands. Its rich, safe suds wash your colored clothes so clean they fairly sparkle!

Next washday use Oxydol—and enjoy a wash so clean it's actually White Without Bleaching!

Royal Memory Wins Fifth Straight Race

Horse racing returned to the Willows Saturday afternoon with over 5,500 fans in attendance to usher in Victoria's annual 14-day meeting. Seven-race card saw double win figures posted on the board four times with the result the big crowd left the enclosure in a happy mood.

Officials of the Colwood Park Association announced the mutual handle was up over the previous day last season. This was not surprising as the betting wickets did a brisk business all afternoon.

Distinguished visitors at the opening day included Governor Mon C. Walgren of Washington State and Donald Gordon, chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Longest price of the afternoon was seen in the opening heat when Sweet Runner, owned by S. K. Fong, prairie Chinaman, received the benefit of a smart ride by the Cuban jockey, Raoul Alonzo, and got down in front to return $20.60 for a $2 win pastebord. After being well back of the leaders in the early running, Sweet Runner moved up back of the pacesetter Tettie B. nipped through a small hole on the rail entering the stretch and won by two lengths. Favored Valinda Joy was second and Special Lady third.

FAVORITE WINS

Odds-on favorite Brilliant Help, with the veteran Emil Spoori aboard got down in the second. After running close to Zelpha Lad all the way in the six furlongs and 30 yards event, Brilliant Help took over at the head of the stretch and won in the final drive. Kaywood finished third.

Royal Memory, Arkadia Stable's black gelding, registered his fifth straight victory in winning the third. The seven-year-old, racing to his best form, paid off at $6.50 for a bet on his nose. Majority of the betting public went to Total which ran last.

Making his first start of the season, Machrina Boy captured the fourth for maiden two-year-olds. After breaking on top from the gate F. Acheson's brown gelding never looked back on his field.

Tidy Peter, who ran on Chicago tracks last season, and won his last start at Vancouver this summer, took right up where he left off by registering his second straight in the fifth over a mile and one-sixteenth. Fifth choice in the betting he paid $13.80 to win. The ever-popular Broderick closed a lot of ground in the stretch to finish second with Cetoma third. The favorite, Pandomint, tired in the stretch to finish last.

Favored Meadowvale Boy took the sixth, breaking on top and winning as he pleased. Peruse was second and Naled third.

Seventh and final race produced another long price when Stockton flashed across the wire, a length in front of Arab Somers with Dolly Somers third. After breaking on top out of the gate, Stockton dropped back to second down the backstretch but came on again rounding the last turn and held on.

Daily double from Sweet Runner to Brilliant Help returned $28.40 and the one-two in the seventh $32.20.

Harvey Duncan was the leading rider of the afternoon with three winners. Alonzo had a leg up of two winning mounts with Spoori and Hernandez splitting the other two.

Oscar Andrade, young Mexican rider, was thrown in the fourth when his mount, Cherokee Boy ducked out entering the backstretch and struck the fence, but suffered nothing worse than a shaking up.

V.M.D.-Navy Split Two

Fifth Game Tonight

V.M.D. ball club today was within one game of the city championship. The shipyarders can realize their ambition tonight at Athletic Park when they tangle with the Navy in the fifth game, starting at 5.45. Saturday the clubs split a doubleheader, with the Navy beating Stan Curry 8 to 4 in the afternoon and Tommy Musgrave coming back to register his second straight shutout over the sailors, 5 to 0, in the evening.

Musgrave pitched under the handicap of a broken nose, suffered at work. It didn't bother him as he gave up only three hits for a total of five in his two appearances in the final.

Tonight, Cy Shillito, who pitched the V.M.D. to a 4 to 0 triumph in the second game, will be back on the mound, while Stan Scallion will get the starting call for the bluejackets.

Navy jumped right on the merry-go-round when they grabbed four runs in the first inning of the afternoon game. Currie from then on held the Navy scoreless until the seventh, when errors by Strouger and Garnet allowed four unearned runs. Bending in a wide curve, Johnston handcuffed the shipbuilders until the fourth inning when Morgan singled, Harney was walked and Garnet sacrificed the runners along. Morrison's sharp single scored Morgan to give V.M.D. their lone tally in that inning.

Making their belated rally in the eighth, when hits by Currie, Morgan and Garnet put them in a position to score when Detrich's wild heave to first permitted the opportunity. They were cut off, however, at three runs and the game ended leaving them on the short end of an 8 to 4 score.

HURLS THREE-HITTER

In the night game V.M.D. registered their third win and third shutout behind the three-hit pitching of Musgrave. Lefty Pawluk was the starting pitcher for Navy and hurried good ball until the sixth inning, when Patterson singled and Morrison walked. Strouger bunted and Pawluk ran in to make a wild throw into right field, allowing Patterson and Morrison to score. Strouger added another when the left-hander threw wild again at first in an attempt to throw out Taylor. Douglas replaced Pawluk in the seventh and was nicked for two runs, one in the eighth and one in the ninth.

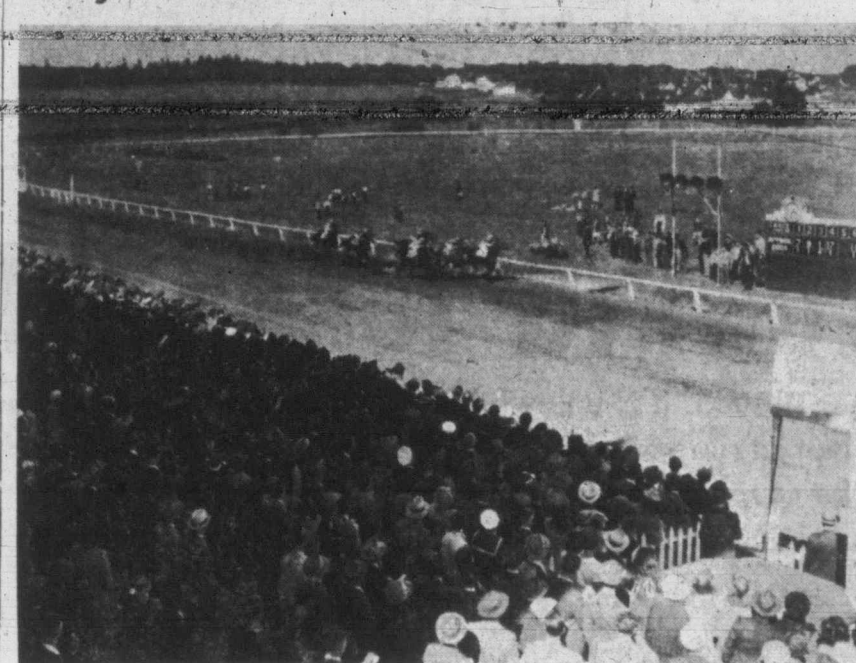

Both infields sparkled with ball. Parkins and Detrich handled many difficult plays while Strouger, Taylor and Garnet pulled off some fine fielding plays for V.M.D. to thrill the big crowds.

Feeling between the members of the two clubs continues to run high. In the night game Noel Morgan, V.M.D. right fielder, was bumped hard by catcher Bayduck as he raced in from third, and Morgan's teammates claimed the block was unnecessary. When Bayduck took his turn at the plate in the last of the ninth he had to drop quickly to get away from one of Musgrave's fast ones. The big catcher didn't take kindly to being dusted off.

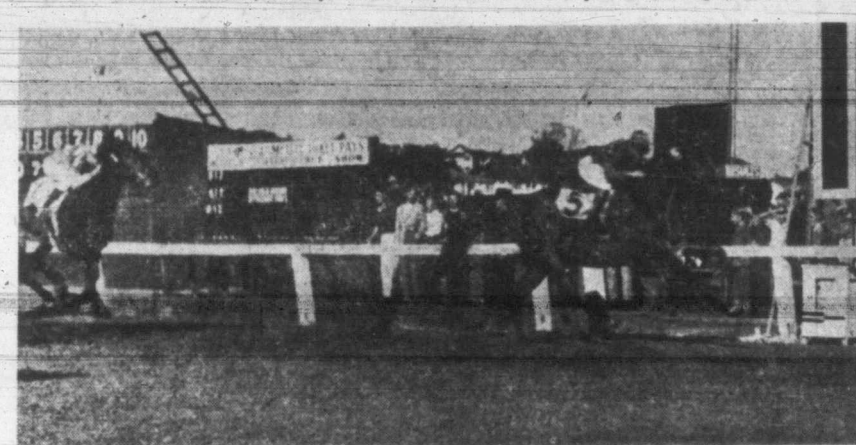

In the afternoon game Wally Thompson, coaching at third base for the Navy, was banished from the game by Umpire Tommy Watson for protesting a decision on Latiff's drive past third base. Theumps called it foul and Thompson thought otherwise.

Short scores follow:
First game—R. H. E.
Navy—8 10 1
V.M.D.—4 7 5
Batteries—Johnston and Bayduck; Currie and Harney.
Second game—
V.M.D.—5 8 0
Navy—0 3 4
Batteries—Musgrave and Patterson; Pawluk, Douglas and Bayduck.

Racing Returns to Willows Track

With over 5,000 fans jamming the grandstand, Victoria's annual 14-day horse racing meet opened Saturday at the Willows. Above picture shows a portion of the big crowd watching the finish of the second race, won by odds-on favorite Brilliant Help with Emil Spoori aboard.

The fact that he was making his first start of the season proved no handicap to F. Acheson's Machrina Boy, who is seen winning the fourth race by two lengths over Sister Dolas. Harvey Duncan had a leg up on the winner.

Sammy Snead Has Subpar 68 to Win Dallas Tourney

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Sammy Snead posted a nonchalant four-under-par 68 Sunday to win the Dallas $10,000 open golf championship with a 72-hole total of 276—four strokes better than Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Sanford, Me., who finished second.

In taking down first money of $2,000 Snead had four rounds of sub-par golf on the Dallas Country Club course. He shot the first 18 in 70, the second and third in 69 and with what he had yesterday showed a total of 12 below regulation figures for the 72 holes.

Winding up third and none too happy about it was Byron Nelson of Toledo, O., top money-winner of golf the past two years. Nelson shot a 68 to make his total 281.

McSpaden won $1,400 and Nelson carried off $1,000.

Bantam Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., had a two-over-par 74 Sunday and fell to fourth place with a total of 285. He received $800. McSpaden, who started the last round just one stroke back of Snead, had three birdies in the first four holes, then trouble overtook him. He finished the first nine in even par and managed to clip one stroke off the back nine.

S. Rynosky Named Football Captain

Steve Rynosky was elected captain of Victoria's American football team at Sunday's workout at Macdonald Park which saw coach Bill Bishop put 30 boys through a strenuous practice session. Rynosky was quarterback for Vancouver College last season.

The Victoria club will play its first game, Friday, Sept. 21, against Port Angeles under the lights. Bishop intends having his boys out three nights a week to get them in tiptop condition for the opener.

HOOP MEETING

A meeting of the executive of the Victoria and District Basketball League will be held tonight at 8.30, at the home of president Ernie Stock.

Following members are requested to attend: Jack Phillips, Gordon Perkins and Wally Smith.

Carded a pair of 69's to finish second with an aggregate 272.

Brentwood Aces Win B.C. Fastball Title

As the fitting climax to a brilliant season, Brentwood Aces won the British Columbia senior B men's fastball championship here Sunday, with 6 to 4 and 7 to 3 victories over West Coast Shipyarders of Vancouver, mainland champions. Aces had previously won the city and island titles.

At the conclusion of the night game Wally Yeamans, president of the British Columbia Fastball Association, presented the championship trophy to the Brentwood club, extending his congratulations to the team on its fine performance in both the league and provincial playdowns.

Alf Aspinall and Rom Knott were the winning pitchers. The former gave up nine hits in the afternoon tilt while Knott was nicked for six in the evening. Brentwood tagged J. Nagy for 11 hits in the opener and got to N. Nicols for 13 in scoring their second win.

Third sacker Hal Yardley had a great day at the plate, collecting six hits, including a double, in 10 trips. In addition, he turned in a smart exhibition affair.

In the afternoon game, Brentwood moved into a 3 to 0 lead in the first inning on the strength of Yardley's single, W. Turner's double, a walk and an error. West Coast came back with single counters in the second, fourth and fifth to tie the score. Three hits, one a double by Ronnie Benn gave Brentwood another two runs in the last of the fifth and they stayed on top, getting out of a bad hole in the eighth with a fast double play by way of the plate. Brentwood added their final run in the last of the eighth with West Coast getting their fourth counter in the ninth.

TAKE EARLY LEAD

Brentwood lost no time getting out in front in the second tilt, shoving across one run in the first and two in the second to hold a 3 to 1 margin. They got another pair in the fifth on singles by B. Sluggett and J. Doney and a double by J. Turner.

to make the score 5 to 2. Vancouver pushed across a single in the seventh on Hake's single and Nagy's triple and that ended their scoring for the night, while single runs in the seventh and eighth boosted Brentwood's total to seven.

Short scores follow:
First game: R. H. E.
West Coast—4 9 1
Brentwood—6 11 2
Batteries: Nagy and Naples; Aspinall and J. Turner.

Second game: R. H. E.

West Coast—3 6 1
Batteries: Knott and J. Turner; Nicols and Aspinall.

ADVERTS BEATEN

Saturday afternoon Bob Whyte's Adverts dropped two one-sided decisions to Collingwood, mainland winners, in the British Columbia senior B women's final. The visitors marked up a 14 to 1 victory in the first game and then administered a 30 to 7 beating in the second.

The visitors had much the better team and in both fixtures, scored runs practically at will. They hit the ball harder and showed all-round superiority over the youthful Adverts, winners of the city championship.

After taking a 4 to 0 lead in the afternoon tilt, Collingwood went on a scoring spree to push seven runs across in the fourth. Adverts scored their lone run in the sixth to prevent a shutout.

The evening fixture was just a procession of runs for the mainlanders as they scored in every inning, with rallies in the sixth and seventh producing eight and seven runs, respectively. Visitors collected a total of 20 hits while Adverts pitchers, Mitchell and McCulloch, issued 22 walks.

Vi Crowley received credit for pitching both wins for Collingwood, although she only worked a portion of the afternoon engagement.

Coast Junior Ice Loop to Operate

NANAIMO (CP)—The Pacific Coast Junior Hockey League will operate under the Junior A classification next season, thus making the circuit champion eligible for the Memorial Cup playoffs and the Dominion title. It was decided here Sunday at the annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Junior Hockey Association.

It was a junior B loop last year and the winner could not enter the interprovincial playoffs. Nanaimo, Vancouver and New Westminster will have entries in the loop again this season and the schedule is slated tentatively to open Nov. 3.

Gallant Simon Wins Feature at Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP)—Gallant Simon, four-year-old dark brown gelding, owned by L. Graziano of Vancouver, B.C., plodded through the slop to win the feature race at Polo Park here Saturday. The highly-favored Mary Mahone, after leading for more than three-quarters of the distance, faded badly and finished out of the money.

Gallant Simon, by Gallator out of Happony, staged a spectacular drive in the stretch to beat out Muchy from the K. and K. Stable of Winnipeg, in the seven-furlong route. Delayed Action was third.

Fowler Hurls No-Hitter

The stirring big league pennant races were forced to share the spotlight today with a 21-year-old Canadian army dischargee who returned to the baseball front only 24 days ago.

The former soldier, Dick Fowler of Toronto, righthanded hurler of Philadelphia Athletics, celebrated his first 1945 starting assignment for the Mackmen yesterday by hurling the season's first no-hitter to whip Chicago White Sox 1 to 0 in the second game of a doubleheader. The A's also won the opener 6 to 2.

The hectic American League flag race entered the final three weeks of the season with the first-place Detroit Tigers only one game ahead of the persistent Washington Senators following yesterday's double triumph by the Nats and a victory and tie by the Bengals.

Mickey Haefner, sturdy little southpaw, had little trouble annexing his 16th victory in a 4 to 2 opening game triumph for Washington over the White Sox. But Santiago Ullrich had to come to the rescue of his fellow Latin elbow, Alex Carrasquel in the nightcap to eke out a 5 to 4 decision for Ossie Bluege's men.

City Golf Entries Will Close Friday

Golfers intending to compete in the annual city championship tournament are reminded that entries close Friday with the secretary of the Victoria Golf Club.

Eighteen-hole qualifying round will be played Sunday over the Oak Bay links with the low 16 entering the title flight.

Three Tie for Medal In Gorge Vale Golf

Finishing with net scores of 66, W. Neilson D. Fanthorpe and H. B. Hincks tied for medal honors in the qualifying round of the men's handicap championship at the Gorge Vale Golf Club Sunday.

Scores of 70 or better qualified for the title flight, with six players tying for the last position. In the draw Wally Rowe gained the berth.

Scores of the players who qualified follow: W. Neilson 66, D. Fanthorpe 66, H. B. Hincks 66, T. Fordyce 67, J. Corkle 68, J. Carlow 68, E. Hume 68, L. Topley 68, E. Barber 68, P. Brown 68, R. Hoadley 68, D. Gillard 69, R. Ludbrook 69, E. Dempsey 69, Dr. E. Whitmore 69 and W. Rowe 70.

The winner, with jockey Red McKenzie up, paid $7.60, $3.15 and $2.25 across the board.

WHITCOMBE-ANDERSON

FULWELL, Eng. (CP)—Reg Whitcombe and Bill Anderson won the $1,000 ($4,500) Daily Sketch best-ball four ball medal golf tourney here Saturday, finishing a 70 and a 65 for a 72-hole aggregate of 270. Henry Cotton, Britain's number one shotmaker, and his partner, Joe Baker, carded a pair of 69's to finish second with an aggregate 272.

CUBS WIN PAIR

The feverish National League title chase remained at a stalemate when the top-perched Chicago Cubs and the second-rung St. Louis Cards each swept a twin bill, leaving the Brains still 3½ games in front.

The Cubs made short work of the Braves as Ray Prim and Claude Passeau, in rare form, prostrated Boston 9 to 1 and 4 to 0.

The Redbirds had to win the hard way. After coming from behind to sneak in with the opener 5 to 4, they made it two successive one-run decisions over New York Giants by winning the second 3 to 2.

The season's record crowd of 72,152 (65,534 paid) saw Bob Feller outpitch Spud Chandler to pave the way for a Cleveland 10 to 4 and 4 to 3 double win over New York Yankees at the Yankee Stadium, and practically eliminate the Brantixites from any flag consideration.

Victoria Nature
TalksBy ROBERT CONNELL
SOME WAYSIDE ODDITIES

WITH the decrease in wild flowers attention is attracted to the conspicuous seed-bearing and distributing apparatus of certain species. In some instances these are as interesting as the blossoms because they retain something of the summer coloring, and at the same time are examples of remarkable ingenuity. A common plant in places is the burdock, Achillea lappa variety minus, familiar in the northern parts at least of Europe, Asia and North America, a camp-follower of civilization.

Its large lower leaves of the first year's growth make attractive foreground studies for artists, and when its flowering stem rises above them the following year with its smaller leaves and clusters of purple flower-heads it is a striking if rather sombre plant. At this time of the year the purple florets are faded, but the color of the roundish heads still remains, a subtle mixture of purple and green.

This is due to the numerous bracts that encircle the head and are closely folded over each other below while their upper half is a slender but stiff spine. But unlike most spines, this one has its tip turned over towards the center of the head and downwards so as to form a perfect hook. Concealed within the bracts are the seeds, which have each a small tuft of hairs, but which for their dispersal in due course depend not on these but on the hooked spines.

Consequently the seeds are dispersed in the first place as parts of the whole ripened head. The hooks effectively attach themselves to clothing, to the hair of dogs, the tails of horses and cattle, and so go on their travels. It is interesting to see how the purple of the florets appears in paler hue in the little hooks.

A QUESTION OF NAMES

Everyone knows the fireweed, remarkable for its swift spread over newly-burnt land. The covering of the devastated slopes of our island with the summer sheet of purplish rose is one of the triumphs of nature. And yet "fireweed" seems hardly the best of names. For one thing, it is appropriated on this continent by an eastern plant, one resembling our common groundsel but with whitish flowers and actually coming in Girdle's Flora between the groundsel and the burdock. It also owes its name to its rapid spread on newly-burnt clearings. But our plant belongs to a quite different family, the evening primrose one, and is thus akin also to the godetia and the clarkia. And in stature and richness of native color I think it superior, wild as it is.

Our fireweed is Epilobium angustifolium, the narrow-leaved Epilobium, known in the British Isles as willow-herb, because of the shape of its leaves, and as rose-bay, a popular name it shares, however, with the rhododendron. One of the old herbalists, botanists who knew it only as a rather rare plant speaks of it as "garnished with brave flowers of great beauty, consisting of four leaves apiece, of an orient purple color."

Were it not that it sometimes spreads too easily in gardens it would be worthy of cultivation.

At this season the flowers are over except perhaps on an occasional late plant, but the beauty does not depart with the fading of the petals. The bright color lingers on in the stem and in the lengthening seed pod to which the plant owes its botanical name of Epilobium, that is to say, "upon a little pod," for what appears to be the flower-stem is really the crimson seed-vessel which lengthens out with the development of the seeds within. Then when they are ripe the pod splits from the top down and liberates them, each with a tuft of silvery white hairs. This breaking of the pod and release of the seeds is in itself a very pretty display and a notable mark of autumn. George Meredith writes: "Flowers of the willow-herb are wool," but it suggests to me the purest white floss-silk. These fairy seeds cause its magic upspringing.

Kinney's Mother Sees Him at Cell

Charles Kinney, 17-year-old boy charged with the murder of Philip Strong, was visited in his cell at the city police station on Sunday by his mother, Mrs. Charles Kinney, following her arrival from eastern Canada.

Young Kinney already had been visited by an elder brother who is awaiting discharge from the navy here, and who met Mrs. Kinney at Vancouver. The boy also had seen G. H. Sedger, who represented him at his brief appearance last Tuesday in city police court.

Preliminary hearing in the case has been set to open Tuesday, and it is understood the defence probably will request a further adjournment of one week.

First Commissioning Since War's End

First commissioning since the end of the war occurred Saturday at H.M.C.S. Naden with the commissioning of a transport ferry for the Royal Navy.

She was turned over to the command of Lt.-Cmdr. R. S. Paton, R.N.R., and will be manned by R.N. personnel.

Rev. John Furlong, R.C.N., senior Protestant chaplain, read the service, assisted by Rev. G. L. Gillard, R.C.N.

The R.C.N. band, under 'WO. Stanley Sunderland, was in attendance.

Blue Line Files 24-Point Appeal On Gonzales Bus Route Decision

Formal notice of appeal to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council from the B.C. Public Utilities Commission decision in awarding the Gonzales-Fairfield bus route to the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd., was filed by the 'Veterans' Sightseeing and Transportation Co. Ltd., operators of the Blue Line Transit and Taxi Co., with the Provincial Secretary's department at the Parliament Buildings this afternoon.

The appeal, drawn up by Robert Harvey, K.C., counsel for the company at the public hearings of the Public Utilities Commission held here recently, contends the commission in its findings erred on 24 points, among others.

The appeal included the following allegations:

1. The B.C.E.R. does not operate in the territory of the proposed bus line but merely on the fringe of it.

2. The commission erred in finding that it would be unwise and unfair to give authority to any other transportation company to operate in the area until a Greater Victoria transportation service had been settled by the municipalities concerned.

3. In this finding the commission contravened the Motor Carrier Act.

4. The commission erred in being governed or influenced by the city of Victoria's consent to the operation of the B.C.E.R.

5. The commission erred in finding the consent of any body other than the commission was required.

6. The granting of the license to the Blue Line would not result in seriously affecting the business of No. 6 streetcar line.

7. The commission erred in taking into consideration that the Greater Victoria municipalities have under discussion a unified transportation system.

8. The commission's decision that it would be unwise and unfair to disturb the positions of the various transit services, where a new service is being considered was faulty.

9. There has been no consistent policy that justified the decision.

10. The commission erred in failing to deal with the applications before it on their respective merits.

11. The commission erred in making its decision "upon the real merits and justice of the case," as required by law so to do.

12. The commission failed to observe as the guiding principle the conservation of public interest.

13. "That the commission erred in being governed or influenced by the existence of a supposed 'gentlemen's agreement' whereby the City Council may have felt itself obligated to protect the interests of the B.C.E.R. regardless of conflict with the due protection or conservation of the public interest."

14. That the commission erred in having granted the application of the Blue Line for permission to operate a public passenger bus service in the King George Terrace district, failing to grant the application of the Blue Line to provide a service extending into Oak Bay and affording a connecting link with its system already established and operating, thus depriving the residents of Oak Bay of a direct service into the city via the Gonzales district.

15. The commission erred in failing to recognize the petition of 3,000 residents of Fairfield, Gonzales districts in favor of the proposals offered by the Blue Line as against the proposals offered by the B.C.E.R.

Public Requested Not to Use Meat Tokens As Poker Chips

Meat rationing was reintroduced in Canada today and while A. B. Food, local foods ration officer, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, feels the new system will be more convenient to the public and meat trade alike, he has one fear — token collectors.

"Don't start collecting the tokens here and there because you think they might make good poker chips," Mr. Food advised. "Keep the tokens in circulation, for, if any quantity disappeared, or were held back, the distribution system would be ruined."

Even if every ration book holder just kept one or two for a souvenir or collection, the system would suffer, he said.

COUPON M-1 VALID

One meat coupon, M-1 became valid today and M-2 will become valid Thursday. One coupon a week will become valid every Thursday from then on and will not become invalid until so declared, Mr. Food said.

"Each coupon is worth eight tokens and represents one to three pounds of meat dependent upon the type. The present system should prove more convenient for the public and trade generally, for the public can be treated more equitably through the token system. A person living alone can get a little bit of meat and a variety without surrendering the complete ration for a week. The tokens are his change."

"As for the trade, since only one coupon a week becomes valid (under the old system two a week were valid), coupon circulation will be down 50 per cent."

Persons who ordered meat on Saturday for delivery today, will have to surrender coupons for it, Mr. Food said.

have to surrender coupons for it, Mr. Food said.

"Any dealer who has not yet obtained his tokens or complete meat charts should apply to the ration office immediately and we will serve him. Dealers have given us every co-operation and we want them to know we are here to help them."

DEALERS INSTRUCTED

W. A. Hick, meat ration officer, interviewed a number of dealers this morning who were seeking information and the office was crowded with persons holding temporary ration cards who wished to obtain meat ration coupons.

Between 600 and 1,000 temporary rations are distributed to visitors during the course of a month at the local ration office.

Search Continues

Saanich Police Chief J. Bull said today that there were no new developments in the search for the gunman who attempted last Tuesday to kidnap 16-year-old Gillian Gooden for $50,000 ransom, although his department was making every effort to solve the case.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police and all police departments of Greater Victoria are co-operating with Saanich police in trying to track down the man who entered the Massey Gooden summer home off Sayward Road, robbed Mrs. Gooden of $12 and was frustrated in his attempt to kidnap Gillian.

Officer Promoted

Flying Officer G. A. Inverarity, D.F.C., has been promoted to flight lieutenant, according to word received by his father, Capt. J. D. Inverarity, M.C. At present the young Victoria officer is on a three-months' Radar course in England. He enlisted for aircrew duties in the Royal Air Force in 1939 and was commissioned in 1943. He attended University School.

Lived Here 35 Years

George Francis Gibbons, 61, who lived in Victoria for 35 years before moving to Sooke four months ago, died at Royal Jubilee Hospital Sept. 7.

A.F. of L. Spokesmen Meet B.C. Cabinet

A dozen representatives of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, and Vancouver, New Westminster, and District Trades and Labor Council and other A.F. of L. unions met the provincial cabinet today.

Spokesmen for the delegation, headed by R. Gervin, secretary of the Vancouver organization, and F. Davidson, president of the Victoria group, declined to disclose the purpose of their mission.

They said it concerned certain matters vital to labor groups in the Vancouver and Victoria districts.

Shipyard Appeal Set for Sept. 21

Date for hearing the appeal of the Victoria shipyard unions from Magistrate H. C. Hall's dismissal of charges against Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd. and Falconer Marine Industries Ltd. under the Dominion Election Act was set for Sept. 21 by Judge H. H. Shandley in County Court chambers today.

Other appeal dates set were: the case of James Cameron vs. Arthur W. Lehman for Sept. 27 and Ratcliffe vs. Ratcliffe for Sept. 25. Rex vs. Maynard was stood over for a day to be fixed.

Set for Oct. 8 was the case of Francis Joseph Meredith vs. Peter Ross. The action arose out of an accident between Meredith's automobile and Ross' car near the intersection of Admirals Road and Esquimalt Road Feb. 15.

Other trials whose dates for hearing were set were: Morris vs. K. C. Mitchell, Sept. 28; Robert Conter et al vs. Phillip W. Paskin, Oct. 2; Financial Survey Ltd. vs. Annie M. Hearnden, Sept. 24; Leopold G. Rear vs. Paul Case, Oct. 4; Marshall Johnson vs. Onni Parta, Oct. 9; and Pemberton Holmes Ltd., vs. Nicholas Squires et al, Oct. 11.

Normal Registration Highest Since 1939

Registration at the Victoria Normal School, which opened today is the highest since 1939, H. O. English, principal, said today.

Already 75 students have come in, among them several returned service personnel, both men and women, and it is expected that more than 80 will be attending classes before the end of the week. Classes open at 8:30 Tuesday morning and will continue until the middle of June.

Squad Leader J. F. Hammett, formerly of the R.C.A.F., is the only member of the staff who has returned from the forces. He received his appointment as art and mathematics teacher approximately a month ago. He joined the Air Force in 1940 and served more than two years overseas.

Liberals May Name Weir and Wismer

Both Liberal and Progressive Conservative partymen said today they had no information that Dr. George M. Weir, former provincial secretary and education minister, and Gordon S. Wismer, K.C., former attorney-general, appeared likely to re-enter the provincial political field.

A Vancouver report said Dr. Weir was considered likely choice among several names put forward for the Burrard nominating convention on Sept. 20. Vancouver Centre Liberals, according to this report, were likely to name Mr. Wismer, in their nominating convention Sept. 17.

The report also mentioned Howard Forester, former M.L.A. for Burrard, J. G. Turgeon, former M.P. for Cariboo, and G. V. Pelton, unsuccessful Liberal candidate in Burrard for the recent federal vote, as possible choices for that riding.

The name of E. A. Jamieson is also mentioned as a possible choice for Vancouver Centre but it is expected he will make way for Mr. Wismer if Mr. Wismer wants the nomination, the report said.

It continued that open contests were expected at Liberal nominating conventions in Delta riding Sept. 12 and Vancouver East Sept. 27.

On Sept. 14 the Burnaby Liberals may nominate William Phillips, the Vancouver dispatch said.

L.P.P. to Contest Victoria, Saanich

R. Kerr, plumber and veteran Communist party member, and W. White, shipyard boilermaker and Saanich councillor, have been named Labor Progressive Party candidates for Victoria and Saanich, respectively, in the Oct. 25 provincial general election.

At a joint meeting of the Victoria and Saanich party organization Sunday night at 1116 Broad Street, the party headquarters in Victoria, the pair were chosen to contest the two ridings. It was announced no other L.P.P. candidates would be named in Greater Victoria.

Mr. Kerr has been with the L.P.P. since its inception and previously to that was a member of

FALL MUSIC CLASSES

Starting Now

We owe it to our children to give them the inestimable advantage of some degree of musical education, a knowledge that will not only enhance their appreciation of good music but be a decided factor in future social accomplishment and standing. Victoria is fortunate indeed in the number and high standing of its Teachers of Voice, Piano and other instruments and it has always been our happy lot at Fletcher's to co-operate with Teachers and Parents in every phase of Musical education. Fall Music Classes are forming now and we urge Parents and Students to take advantage of these opportunities.

‘Tarzan Triumphs’ Showing at York

“Tarzan Triumphs,” now at the York Theatre, first of Sol Lesser’s new series for RKO Radio based on the popular Edgar Rice Burroughs’ stories, has as its theme a melodramatic plot that brings the present war into the wilds of Africa.

Starring Johnny Weissmuller, “Tarzan Triumphs” shows the fictional hero of hundreds of stories as one who has no interest in the war at first. This attitude continues until the Germans invade the jungle to enslave the people that are peacefully living there. It is then that Tarzan makes war. Equipped with knowledge of the country that aids him in making an onslaught on the invaders, he meets the most dangerous enemy of his many exciting adventures.

Frances Gifford is Weissmuller’s new leading lady, chosen over 30 candidates for the part. Also seen in the cast are Johnny Sheffield, popularly known as “Tarzan Jr.,” Stanley Ridges, Stanley Brown, Rex Williams, Sig Ruman, Pedro de Cordoba and Cheta, the famous chimpanzee. William Thiele directed.

Atlas Holds Over ‘Music to Remember’

When you find yourself trustee for the works and memory of a great composer, as we have at Columbia in the preparation of a photoplay based in considerable part upon the life of Frederic Chopin, you feel your responsibility. With such a wealth of material, it would have been sacrilege not to use as much of it as possible. And so we did.

The picture, of course, is the technicolor “A Song to Remember,” now at the Atlas Theatre, which dwells somewhat extensively upon the love affair of the young Chopin and his equally well-known inamorata, Mme. George Sand, and how his infatuation inspired the composer to some of his best works.

The role of Chopin is played by Cornel Wilde, with Paul Muni and Merle Oberon co-starring respectively as the composer’s devoted mentor, and as the object of the composer’s affections.

Song Hits Highlight Dominion Showing

“Eadie Was a Lady,” Columbia Pictures’ new musical currently starring Ann Miller with Joe Besser and Hal McIntyre and His Orchestra, coming Monday to the Dominion Theatre, is studded with six musical hits. They include: “Gypsy From Brooklyn,” by L. Wolfe Gilbert and Ben Oakland; “Til You Came Along,” and “Eadie’s Back,” by Saul Chaplin and Sammy Cahn; “I’m Gonna See My Baby,” by Phil Moore; “Tabby the Cat,” by Howard Gibeling and Harold Dickinson; “Eadie Was a Lady,” by Buddy de Sylva and Nacio Herb Brown.

In the picture directed by Lewis Allen and now at the Dominion Theatre.

Tuneful Musical Showing at Cadet

Had it not been for diminutive Margaret O’Brien, Leon Ames would have lost a tie-pin that had been in his family for more than 100 years.

For his character of Father Smith in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer’s new technicolor film, “Meet Me in St. Louis,” starring Judy Garland, which opens today at the Cadet Theatre, Ames decided to wear the pin, first because it was completely in character, and second because in his very role, stage or screen, he has worn the tie-pin regardless of whether or not it has been visible to the audience.

As he prepared to go into a “take” for the film, he noticed that the pin was missing. A search failed to reveal it.

The middle of a scene that afternoon required Margaret to hold up a doll for her screen father’s inspection. An integral part of that doll’s costume was the pearl stick-pin.

and urged him to make singing his profession. Now a star of the Metropolitan, the Chicago and San Francisco opera companies, he has sung leading roles in Covent Garden, the Paris Grand Opera, Teatro Municipal in Rio de Janeiro, and major opera houses throughout the world. A versatile artist, he is equally at home in operetta. His portrayal of Francois Villon in the New York revival of Friml’s “Vagabond King” in 1943, won such praise from music critics that he has played the part from coast to coast—on tour, and during summer engagements.

The tenor of the quartette, Kentucky-born Edward Kane, is a former winner of the Atwater Kent prize. His opera engagements include performances at the Teatro Colon in Buenos Aires and the New York City Centre Opera Company. He broadcasts on many radio programs, recently appearing as guest artist on the “Ford Hour” and the Telephone Hour.

Lucille Browning, contralto of the Metropolitan Opera, was a prize pupil of the late Marcella Sembrich. Miss Browning sang on the air before she made her operatic debut with the Philadelphia Opera Company. In 1936 she reached the finals of the “Metropolitan Auditions of the Air,” and today she sings leading roles at that opera house.

Adelaide Abbot, lyric coloratura soprano of Footlight Favorites, has a voice of phenomenal range; three octaves to G above high C. She is a graduate of the Chicago Musical College, and a former pupil of Nellie Gardini and Mary Garden.

FRANCES GIFFORD plays the role of Zandra, Johnny Weissmuller’s new leading lady. In “Tarzan Triumphs,” a Sol Lesser production for RKO Radio. She was selected after 30 aspirants for the role were tested. Her exotic costume is the result of studio designers’ exhaustive preparations and is known as the “Zandrape.” She is featured with Johnny (Boy) Sheffield in this production that stars Johnny Weissmuller, now at the York.

Touching Love Story Comes to Capitol

Hailed as “the most beautiful love story ever told,” RKO Radio’s newest offering, “The Enchanted Cottage,” now being shown at the Capitol Theatre, deals with the romance between a returned war veteran and an unpopular girl who turns to one another because of their mutual handicaps. Starring Dorothy McGuire and Robert Young in the romantic leads, and Herbert Marshall as a blind composer who befriends the couple, the picture was directed by John Cromwell.

Mildred Natwick, Spring Byington, Richard Gaines and Hillary Brooke have the principal supporting roles in the production by Harriet Parsons.

Quartet Wins Fame In All Music Fields

The name Footlight Favorites applies both to the music offered and to the personnel of this operetta quartette, John Brownlee, Edward Kane, Lucille Browning and Adelaide Abbot, the four artists appearing as the opening event on the Hilker Attractions 1945-46 Concert Season at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Wednesday, Sept. 19, have distinguished themselves in all fields of musical entertainment—grand opera, operetta, musical comedy, concert and radio.

John Brownlee, baritone, was born in Australia. His vocal career did not begin until he was graduated from college when Dame Nellie Melba heard him

RADIUM BARKS
AS WORLD'S MOST COSTLY METAL

Forty-seven years ago, the world first heard of radium. Pierre and Marie Curie had found it in pitchblende ore.

During the years which followed, the Curies worked hard to obtain radium in a form more pure. An old shed was used as a laboratory, and in that shed they spent hours untold. At last they produced a dull white powder which seemed to deserve the name of "pure radium."

Two children were born to these scientists, daughters who were given the names of Irene and Eve. Both of these were to grow into women of note. Irene became a scientist, Eve an author and public speaker.

In 1904, honor came to the Curies. They were granted a Nobel prize for their work in producing radium. Pierre was given the rank of professor at the Sorbonne.

Sorrow followed joy two years later. In the spring of 1906, Pierre Curie died in a street accident in Paris, shortly before his 47th birthday.

Picking up the threads of life, Madame Curie accepted the post of professor left vacant by her husband. She went on with the work in radium. In 1911 she was awarded another Nobel prize. She lived until 1934.

Radium made the Curies famous, and it has proved of growing importance as time has gone on. It has been used in the field of medicine, and has helped scientists to build up their knowledge in regard to atoms.

Radium is perhaps the strangest substance ever found. It also is the most valuable of all elements. The world has only a few ounces of "pure radium." The price usually is given in grams. A gram is only a small part of an ounce—it takes 28 grams to make one ounce.

For a time, a gram of radium was valued at $100,000. In 1929 it fell to $50,000 a gram. In 1937 it was reported that a gram could be bought for only $25,000—or at the rate of $700,000 an ounce! Until the outbreak of the Second World War, Canada was a world leader in the production of radium.

The DOCTOR Says:

IT'S WISE TO HAVE ANOTHER
VACCINATION DURING EPIDEMIC

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

There is only one effective way to control smallpox and that is through successful vaccination. The ideal time to vaccinate is between the ages of six and 12 months. Even though the effect wears off through the years, vaccination can be repeated.

During epidemics everyone should be vaccinated, even though they have been vaccinated before. Not all attempted vaccinations are successful as the virus may be too weak, or the patient may have protection against cowpox. If the skin at the point of inoculation becomes sore, red and itchy for a few days and then clears up, it is most likely that the patient has some immunity against cowpox; if nothing happens the vaccine is probably at fault. In either instance another attempt at vaccination should be made.

Although there are several methods of vaccinating against smallpox, the following is preferred by many physicians: The skin should be thoroughly cleansed, but strong antiseptics should be avoided. A small amount of tested cowpox virus is placed on the skin and carried into the outermost layers on the point of a sharp sterile needle.

It is not necessary to puncture the skin over an area more than 1/16 of an inch in diameter to produce what is known as a healed sanitary dimple. A small vaccination scar is just as protective as a large one. You may be vaccinated on the arm, thigh or leg.

ASK FOR CERTIFICATE
A vaccination shield should never be worn. If necessary, a small amount of clean gauze can be worn over the take at the height of the reaction. The physician should see the vaccination at least on the third and seventh days after inoculation. The immune reaction is often missed unless the physician is able to keep close tab on the take during the first few days. Be certain to ask for a certificate of vaccination as the scar may be so small that it will be difficult to locate.

All children should be vaccinated against smallpox as they start to school, even though they may have been given this protection during infancy. The states which require this wise provision have low smallpox rates. Only seven states forbid the requirements of pre-school vaccination, and they have the most smallpox cases a year in and year out. Deaths from smallpox in those who have been recently successfully protected are practically unknown. If you have been vaccinated years ago and you develop the disease, the little protection which remains from your old vaccination will keep you from getting the disease in severe form.

Sea Cadet Orders
Ship's company will parade at headquarters at 19.30 Sept. 11. O.O.W., Lieut. G. Smith; duty PO. Renton.

Sept. 14—O.O.W., S.Lt. Saunders; duty PO. Dunan.

All cadets who have not reported by Sept. 11 will be considered as discharged unless extenuating circumstances exist.

The annual wardroom meeting will be held Sept. 14 and all officers are urged to be present.

The Kidneys
Filter the Blood

Any poisonous waste materials, which the liver has failed to eliminate from the digested food before it is taken up by the blood stream, must be looked after by the kidneys if the blood is to be rid of dangerous poisons.

When the kidneys fail there comes a poisoning of the system with headaches, tired feelings, loss of sleep and such painful ailments as backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago and other ills.

The use of Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills is suggested because they help in three ways to get rid of this condition.

(1) By arousing the action of the liver which prevents certain poisons from getting into the blood stream.

(2) By stimulating the activity of the kidneys in their work of filtering poisons from the blood.
(3) By ensuring activity of the bowels in eliminating the poisonous waste materials from the body.

Surely this must be a thorough system of protecting the body against the poisons which result from the digestion of food. Such treatment is required by almost everybody at one time or another.

Using Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills once or twice a week, will help to keep you regular and well and free from unnecessary pains and discomforts. 35 cts., a box.
